COMMITTEE OF 15 NAMED TO CONSIDER CITY BOND ISSUE

Ten Council Members and Five Citizens, With Councilman Thomson Chairman, Will Take Up Question

COUNCILMAN THOMSON RAPS MAYOR WOODWARD

Says Mayor's "Mean Disposition" Causes Him to Oppose Bonds, After He Has Gotten City in Seriously

Mayor Pro Tem Warren Saturday morning announced the committee to take up the question of a bond issue, which he appoints in pursuance of a resolution adopted by council some days ago.

The committee efollows:

From council—First ward, Alderman J. H. Harwell; second ward, Councilman T. J. Lynch; third ward, Councilman Orville H. Hall; fourth ward, Councilman A. D. Thomson, chairman; fifth ward, Alderman J. W. Maddox; sixth ward, Alderman James R. Nutting; seventh ward, Councilman A. R. Colcord; eighth ward, Councilman W. G. Humphrey; ninth ward, Alderman John S. Candler; tenth ward, Alerman I. N. Ragsdale.

Citizens—Ex-Mayor Courtland S. Winn; Wilmer L. Moore, president of the chamber of commerce; Jerome Jones, editor of the Journal of Labor; Fred J. Paxon, ex-president of the chamber of commerce; A Frank Liebman, real estate dealer.

Councilman Thomson states that he will call a meeting of the committee as soon as hey can possibly get together, his desire being to have a meeting next week.

Discussing the city's financial situation, Councilman Thomson said:

"The supreme court's decision in the crematory case makes it impossible for the city to provide any more special improvements on the moral obligation plan. This means that the city must have more money in its current income, or else issue bonds. As soon as the citizens are thoroughly informed of the facts of the situation, I am satisfied they will rally to the support of whatever good plan is proposed.

"If Mayor Woodward opposes bonds, which I see by the papers he probably will, then there is no chance for bonds to carry. As every one knows, the sentiment of the political leaders of a municipality must be unanimous, or practically so, for bonds to be carried at an election. Any man of any considerable political influence can defeat a bond issue.

"Why the mayor should oppose bonds, now that he has gotten the city in the present situation, is more than I can understand, unless it be his naturally mean disposition. His activities have never been constructive. They have always been destructive and obstructive.

"I notice he is quoted as saying he doesn't believe the people would vote any more bonds 'for that gang in council to spend.' Granting he is right, that still doesn't alter the fact that bonds must be issued, or else the city's income increased. If the people don't want to entrust the expenditure of a bond issue to the present council, all they've got to do is to elect another council The terms of ten councilmen and three aldermen expire this fall. Thirteen new council members ought certainly to be sufficient leaven in the loaf to satisfy council's detractors—even Mayor Woodward. And as far as I'm concerned, it makes no particular difference with me if the fourth ward sends a different man to council. Serving the city as a council member is a thankless job. It requires a lot of time, and the reward is a lot of criticism."

CHESTERTON GUILTY OF CRIMINAL LIBEL

Brother of Author Is Found Guilty of Libelling Godfrey Isaacs in London

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, June 7.—A verdict of guilty was returned against Cecil Chesterton, a brother of G. K. Chesterton the author, at the Central criminal court today on a charge of criminal libel.

He had charged Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of the Marconi company, with corruption in connection with the British government's wireless contract. Some of the most prominent lawyers in England were engaged in the case.

Chesterton was fined $500 and all the costs of the prosecution which will be exceedingly heavy as the trial lasted ten days. He is to be kept in prison until his fine has been paid.

On sentencing the defendant the judge said that when he considered the cruelty of Chesterton's conduct and how he might have rendered Mr. Isaacs a bankrupt by driving him from his employment, it was extremely difficult to refrain from sending Chesterton to prison. The judge's verdict, the pudge added, was a coplete vindication of the prosecutor's honor.

LITTLE SUSIE LLOYD IS DEAD FROM BITE OF DOG

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 7.—Susie Lloyd, who yesterday developed symptoms of hydrophobia from the effect of a maddog's bite inflicted in March, died today, after suffering intense agonies. Over fifteen people in Waycross are now taking treatment for bites inflicted recently. Prominent people are among those being treated.

General Shake-Up in Weather Bureau Follows Firing of Chief Forecaster Willis L. Moore by Wilson

HEISKELL AND CARROLL SUSPENDED WITH NO PAY

Thirty-One Employes Have Been Reduced for Connection With Alleged Political Activities in Department

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Thirty-one employes of the weather bureau have been reduced for connection with the alleged political activity which resulted in the recent dismissal of Chief Willis L. Moore.

Henry L. Heiskell, professor of meteorology, and D. J. Carroll, chief clerk, have been suspended without pay, pending an investigation.

LITTLE ATTENTION PAID TO TOWNSEND'S CHARGE

Statement That President Had Been Lobbying Will Not Be Made an Issue

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Senators on the lobby investigating committee were of the opinion today that Senator Townsend's sensational charge that President Wilson himself virtually had been lobbying for the tariff bill would not be taken up by the committee as an issue unless some specific charges were made.

The committee was in recess today preparing for its next week's work, which will not only finish the testimony of the open senators yet unexamined, but will begin questioning the score or more of men whose names have been brought out in testimony as having represented special interests in Washington.

"President Wilson will be welcomed before the committee if he desires to appear," said Acting Chairman Reed today, "but I see no reason why he should deny charges that never have been made."

Democratic members took the position that it remained for Republicans to persue inquiries on whether President Wilson had used "undue influence" with any Democratic senators, and insisted that the statements by Senators Townsend, Weeks and Warren had been of a general character. Senators Nelson and Cummins, the Republican members of the committee, had no plans today for following up that line of inquiry.

"I intend, however, to insist before the hearings are over," said Senator Cummins, "that President Wilson furnish the committee with the facts or information upon which he based his statements as to 'insidious lobbying' in Washington."

The list of witnesses for next week was enlarged today by the addition of R. D. Bowen, Paris, Tex. Circular letters signed by Bowen as chairman of the "National Farmers' Union committee," were furnished by Senators Ransdell and Kern. These letters urged cotton farmers to "use strong language" with their senators in favor of higher duties on cotton cloth.

JERE KNODE COOKE WILL WED MISS WHALEY

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 7.—Some time within the next week or ten days Jere Knode Cooke, the former Hempstead, N. Y., clergyman whose wife divorced him yesterday, will be married to Floretta Whaley, with whom he eloped six years ago. The tie of the marriage, Cooke's lawyer, W. J. Ennison, said today, has been set for the day Cooke receives a certified copy of the divorce decree.

"The honeymoon," said the lawyer, "will probably be an afternoon off, a good dinner and an evening at the theater. The ceremony will be a civil one, although one of the most respected clergymen in New York has expressed his willingness to officiate."

Cooke was working as usual today at his trade of painter and decorator.

EDUCATION BOARD ELECTS TEACHERS FOR CITY SCHOOLS

Supernumeraries Are Chosen, but Names Will Not Be Given Out Until Monday or Tuesday

MATRIMONIAL WAVE CAUSE OF MANY RESIGNATIONS

Places of Twenty-Two Teachers Filled—Promotions to Principals and Assistant Principals

Dan Cupid has made it necessary for the city board of education to fill the places of twenty-two teachers, the majority of whom have already married or expect to change their names ere another scholastic year looms upon the horizon.

When the board met in the office of Superintendent William M. Slaton Saturday morning to elect teachers in all of the schools for next year they were greeted with this unusually large number of resignations. "The matrimonial scythe," said Mr. Slaton, "has cut a wider swath in the ranks of our teachers this year than is usual, and accordingly, there are a number of places to be filled."

Just how many out of the twenty-two teachers are contemplating matrimony Mr. Slaton would not tell. It would not be fair to them, he said, so the general public must, for the time being, remain in the dark.

While the supernumeraries were also elected along with the teachers, their names will not be made public until each has been assigned to her school. This will be either Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Slaton and Assistant Superintendent L. M. Landrum are now at work along this line and hope to finish up by that time.

The board of education re-elected every official from the superintendent to the clerical force in the office and named two new principals. Miss Lelia Garcia, who acted in the capacity of assistant principal of the Ivy Street school, was promoted to head of the Boulevard school next year. Mrs. Oscar Gamble will succeed Mrs. Laura M. White as principal of the Girls' Night school.

THOSE NO RESIGNED.

Those who tendered their resignations at the board meeting were Margurite West, Miss Lottie Willete, Miss Willie L. Shields, Miss Mary Hughes, Miss Bertie Fowler, Miss Lily Gree, Miss Henrietta Dull, Miss Alice Dixon, Miss Daisy Bearden, Mrs. L. O. Mayo, Miss Kate Gresham, Miss Annie Mae Patterson, Miss Kate Johnston, Miss Vera Daniel, Mrs. Laura M. White, Miss Lucile Estes, Miss Erna Proctor, Miss Julia Brehner, Miss Elsie Williams, Miss Hattie B. Spears, Miss Cleveland Zahner and Miss Hazel Stevenson.

The three colored resignations were Hortense Carson, Eminova Traylor and Lena Jones.

NEW ASSISTANT PRINCIPALS.

Ten new assistant principals were elected as follows:

Miss Addie F. Arnold, Miss Marion Holsebeck, Miss Jamie Speers, Miss Newell Sims, Miss Lottie Spahr, Miss Martha Haygood, Miss Edith S. Anderson, Miss Marie Parks, Miss Annabel Horn and Miss Elsie Palmerine.

Another teacher will be added to the faculty at Tech High school, but the board has not yet decided on the man.

The new grade teachers elected are Miss I. F. Reynolds, Miss Ruby Hightower, Miss Gussie Carr, Miss Angie Boyd, Miss Annie May Fuller, Miss Alcinea Latham, Miss Martha Smith, Miss Lena Ledford, Miss Gussie Fraser, Miss Mary Lumpkin, Miss Mabel King, Miss Elizabeth Haden, Miss Lois Candler, Miss Eugenia Jones, Miss Maggie Landers, Miss Osna Bernstein, Miss Mary Griffin, Miss Mildred Hardy, Miss Eva Bridwell, Miss Clio Craig, Miss Minnie McFall, Miss Lucile Hunter, Miss Ruth Collat, Miss Elizabeth Silvey, Miss Frances Richardson, Miss Julia Hendon, Miss Ruth Blodgett, Miss Grace Terrell, Miss Eva Motes, Miss Ada Jordon and Miss Cornelia Cooper.

Following are the officers and teachers for the Atlanta public schools for 1913-1914:

MRS. FRANK SCORES SOLICITOR

ATLANTA'S BEST BOOSTER

"TORTURE CHAMBER" METHODS CHARGED IN GETTING EVIDENCE

In Card to The Journal, Wife of Factory Superintendent Declares Solicitor Dorsey Has Approved Third Degree

"WE ARE SUFFERING NOW, BUT WHO WILL BE NEXT?"

Her Statement in Full—Conley Will Not Be Indicted as Accessory, but If Frank Is Acquitted, He Will Be Tried

Mrs. Leo M. Frank, wife of the indicted pencil factory superintendent, Saturday afternoon sent The Journal a second statement in which she renews her charge that Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey and the city detectives are obtaining evidence in the Phagan murder case by torturing witnesses into giving testimony.

Mrs. Frank's statement is given out in reply to one issued Thursday afternoon by the solicitor. She declares that her negro cook, Minola McKnight, was arrested in violation of the criminal laws, because there was no charge against her and she was suspected of no crime.

"I do not wish to be in any manner bitter towards Mr. Dorsey, even in my feelings," declares Mr. Fran k,"because it is on perfectly clear that his action is dictated by a serious mistake of judgment, and my only purpose is to let the community understand as thoroughly as I can, in the interest of fair*ness to my innocent* husband, that Mr. Dorsey is proposing to use third degree torture chamber testimony in an effort to take his life and that he thinks it is perfectly proper for him to do so."

MRS. FRANK'S STATEMENT.

Following is Mrs. Frank's statement:

"Atlanta, Ga., June 7, 1913.

"Editor Atlanta Journal.

"Dear Sir: I think fairness to Mr. Frank requires that the public should clearly understand Mr. Dorsey's position as stated by him in his card in the Constition of June 6, and repeated in the papers yesterday, in reply to my statement that he proposes to use testimony which comes from witnesses as the result of torture.

"His real position, as gleaned from his card, can be stated in the following sentences which he employed:

"'I have only to say, without in any wise taking issue with her in the premises as I might' . . . that 'I welcome all evidence from any source that will aid an impartial jury, under the charge of the court, in determining the guilt or innocence of the accused.'

"That is to say, he thinks it unnecessary to waste time in disputing the fact that the detectives are procuring testimony from witnesses by torture. He considers this point immaterial. He believes he is thoroughly justified in using torture as testimony, if it is turned over to him, for he says: 'I welcome all evidence from any source.'

"The Journal and the Constitution stated that he had had his cook arrested and carried to his office and quizzed to such an extent as to drive her into hysterics and that after this he sent her screaming to the police station in the patrol wagon. After she left his office she was taken to the detectives' torture chamber, and according to the Atlanta Constitution, she there had the third degree applied to her to the point of exhaustion, after which she made an affidavit, which the detectives or someone, immediately gave out to the papers. The solicitor had no charge against this cook and did not suspect her of any crime. Yet Mr. Dorsey waives this aside as a trivial matter, and he proposes to be discussed by him, because he says 'I welcome all evidence from any source,' clearly implying that he will take it

WOOD IS ACQUITTED OF DYNAMITE PLOT; COLLINS CONVICTED

Jury Frees President of American Woolen Company From Charge of Conspiring to "Plant" Dynamite

(By Associated Press.)

BOSTON, June 7.—After deliberating throughout the night a jury today acquitted President William W. Wood, of the American Woolen company of the charge of conspiracy to injure the tex*tile strikers at* Lawrence by "planting" dynamite.

A disagreement in the case of Frederick E. Atteaux was reported.

Dennis J. Collins, who turned state's evidence, was found guilty on two counts of the indictment.

The first count charged conspiracy to injure the textile strikers, and the second county conspiracy to injure unknown persons. The other counts allege conspiracy against certain persons and a plot to damage property.

The case, one of the most sensational that has grown out of a dispute between capital and labor, was given to the jury at noon yesterday. The jurors began their deliberations at 3 o'clock and when they had failed of a report at midnight they were locked up for the night. Court reconvened at 9:30 this morning and the jury came in at 10 o'clock.

The foreman reported that Collins was guilty on the first two counts; Wood acquitted and that the jury had been unable to agree in the case of Atteaux.

The court ordered that bail for Atteaux be renewed pending disposition of his case.

Counsel for Wood asked the court to direct an investigation of the published statement that an attempt had been made to influence Morris Shuman, one of the jurors. Yesterday Shuman was questioned by Judge John C. Crosby regarding a statement which he was said to have made recently to the district attorney.

This was to the effect that a man, unnamed, had intimated to him that he might have a business position for life and $200 in cash if he voted "right." Upon assuring the court that he would not be influenced by the alleged attempt at bribery, Shuman was permitted to continue in the jury box.

Judge Crosby stated that an inquiry would be begun before him next Wednesday and he instructed all the jurors to be present.

In asking for the investigation Counsel Hurlburt said:

"The newspapers of Boston have been filled with the statement that a juror was approached. While the name of the attorney to whom it was said this juror was to go to get $200 was not mentioned, it was generally known through rumors circulated about the court that the attorney was myself.

I am an officer of this court. The charge of attempting to bribe a juror is of the gravest character. The jurors are here and I ask that hey be kept while these charges are publicly investigated."

District Attorney Pelletier said he endorsed everything that Mr. Hurlburt had said. He declared that he did not believe that either Mr. Hurlburt or his client, Mr. Wood, had even the slightest connection with the matter.

Judge Crosby stated that though the usual method of investigating such

Taft and Wilson Put Feet Under the Same Table at White House

Former President Taft Is Guest of President and Mrs. Wilson at Luncheon on Saturday

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Former President Taft made his first visit to the White House today since he left on March 4 to become a private citizen. Mr. Taft was the luncheon guest of the president and Mrs. Wilson, but before he sat down to the White House table again he made a brief visit to the executive offices and shook hands with all the old employes he knew.

Before his White House call, Mr. Taft motored to the capitol and got lost.

He went to the house wing and looked for Speaker Clark in the chamber. The house was not in session and only empty benches greeted him. He strolled through the lobby and stepped confidently up to the door of Representative Underwood's private office to find it locked.

"I'm looking for Speaker Clark," said Mr. Taft.

"That's not his office," suggested a bystander, who pointed out the proper door.

"I'm looking for a gentleman named Champ Clark," said Mr. Taft as he entered.

Speaker Clark jumped from behind a newspaper and shouted:

"How are you?"

The former president and the speaker conferred for some time. Both are members of the Lincoln Memorial association which will meet here next Monday.

"I am the happiest man in the United States," declared Mr. Taft as he left the speaker's office. Pointing to Mr. Clark, he observed:

"The speaker hasn't changed any, I find."

"I haven't been on this side in more than four years," added Mr. Taft. "I used to come up and lobby as secretary of war."

SENT BLACKHAND NOTE TO PRESIDENT WILSON

Giuzphe Pomaro, It Is Said, Admits Demanding $5,000, and Is Arrested

(By Associated Press.)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 7.—Giuzphe Pomaro, thirty-five years old, was arrested here today on the charge of sending a blackhand letter to President Wilson demanding $5,000. It is said Pomaro admits his guilt, giving as a reason that he "just wanted the money."

The letter demanding the money was mailed on May 20 and was immediately turned over to the secret service department. Captain Wasker arrived in Youngstown two days ago and found Pomaro at 1050 North Watt street. It is said that Pomaro is of a blackhand band operating in this section.

He Asks Public Works Committee to Bar All Ministers and Evangelists Except Regular Chaplains to Be Employed by County

As a result of assertions made by Captain Tom Donaldson, chief of county construction, Saturday that discipline was being demoralized in Fulton convict camps by the holding of continual religious services the county authorities in future likely will bar all ministers and evangelists excepting the regular chaplains.

Captain Donaldson appeared before the public works committee of the county board and recommended that the county employ a number of ministers as chaplains and taboo any further religious services at the camps.

"Such a large number of volunteer ministers and persons interested in the prisoners appear at the camps Sunday," said Captain Donaldson, "that it is next to impossible to maintain discipline.

"The services which take place on Sunday really prove an injustice to the convicts. Time and time again recently they have been forced to sit through hour after hour of services even to their physical discomfort. If it keeps up it is going to be very difficult for my men to maintain discipline.

"I want to recommend to this board that a certain number of chaplains be employed to hold meetings and that all others be barred. I think the men should have religious services, but the present plan of letting every person who wants to come and preach to the convicts is bad for the system and unjust to the convicts themselves."

Commissioners Shelby Smith, S. B. Turman and W. Tom Winn, composing the public works committee, discussed the matter at length with Captain Donaldson and as a result probably will recommend to the board that the recommendation receive favorable action on the part of the commission.

Captain Donaldson's statement was provoked by a request made to the public works committee by T. J. Day that Mr. Fleming, a recent complaint to Atlanta, interested in work among convicts be allowed to hold services in the camps. Mr. Fleming's plan, as outlined by Mr. Day, included a number of singers.

Captain Donaldson told the board that under the present system a large number of persons congregated at the camps every Sunday and the services keep up during the greater part of the day. The fact that the camps were full of outsiders holded ill for discipline, he said.

ATLANTA BOY GOES MAD; FOUR MEN HOLD HIM

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 7.—Two deputy sheriffs, two sanitarium attendants and several probate court attaches were kept busy for two hours today with Charles Sanders, eighteen years old, son of Mrs. Lena Sanders, an Atlanta, Ga., widow, traveling, she says, in the interest of an Atlanta concern, manufacturers of automobile polish. Sanders was declared insane and committed to the Cincinnati sanitarium.

Mrs. Sanders is related to wealthy St. Louis families and declares she will soon take her son to a state institution in Georgia.

ENGLISH NEWSPAPERS PRAISE WALTER PAGE

New American Ambassador to England Is Complimented Highly on Speech

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, June 7.—Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to the court of St. James, is complimented in editorials appearing in the evening papers today on his first speech in England, made last night at the banquet given in his honor by the Pilgrims' society.

The writers express pleasure that he devoted his speech to cementing the bonds of friendship between the two countries.

The Westminster Gazette says:

"Ambassador Page's speech showed that the United States have succeeded in securing an ambassador who is more than capable of maintaining the traditional reputation of his office for public speaking. Nothing could have been happier than the note he struck in this first public utterance."

The Pall Mall Gazette says:

"We cannot too cordially reciprocate Ambassador Page's pleasant words."

The Evening Standard says:

"It is good to see the power of the friendly feeling existing betwen the two nations thus recognized."

$1,500,000 RETURNED TO BANK BY DEFAULTER

Indictment Against Walter S. Shrouds, of Philadelphia, Quashed

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—An indictment charging Walter S. Shrouds, former superintendent of the Safe Deposit vaults of the Merchants' Union Trust company, with the theft of nearly a million and a half dollars in cash and securities, was ordered submitted to a jury yesterday for a verdict of "not guilty." Counsel for the company explained that full restitution had been made by Shrouds.

Shrouds was indicted in September, 1911, when officials of the trust company reported he was missing and that a shortage of between $25,000 and $30,000 had been discovered.

Subsequently it was discovered in addition to the cash $1,400,000 in securities were missing from the strong box of George W. Burnham, Jr., a director of the company. Shrounds is said to have opened negotiations with the bank officials by means of advertisements in the newspapers and when assured that he would not be prosecuted if the money and securities were surrendered he returned.

EUROPE MAY DEMAND BALKAN DEMOBILIZATION

To Insure Peace, Great Powers May Make Turks and Others Lay Down Arms

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, June 7.—King George entertained the peace delegates of the Balkan states and of Turkey at luncheon at Buckingham palace today to celebrate the signing of the treaty of peace.

Other guests included the Duke of Connaught, Premier Asquith, Foreign Secretary Sir Edward Grey and Viscount Morley, of Blackburn, lord president of the council.

While peace is being celebrated in London the situation in the Near East continues threatening. The report comes from Constantinople, but lacks official confirmation, that the European powers have decided to demand the demobilization of the Turkish and the Italian armies in order to secure peace. It is believed that the initiative in this action was due in great measure to Russia.

The position of the Servian cabinet is said to be unsafe but the resignation of the ministers had not been announced up to noon today.

WILSON LIKELY TO CALL ON SENATORS ANY TIME

President Has Telephone Installed in Capitol Office and Obtains a Key

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Installation of the telephone in the president's room at the capitol today stirred senators to a keener appreciation than they had hitherto possessed that they might expect President Wilson in their midst any moment of the day.

On the president's last visit to the capitol he got a key to his room so that he might come and go whenever he pleased without notice.

BRIDE DRINKS POISON AFTER FIRST QUARREL

(By Associated Press.)

BRISTOL, Tenn., June 7.—Mrs. Oscar Oliver, a bride of a few weeks, committed suicide yesterday afternoon as a result of despondency, following the first quarrel with her husband, which was at lunch. She drank poison and died in four hours. The husband is in a grave mental condition as a result of the tragedy.

Young Shugrue Wins

NEW YORK, June 7.—Young Shugrue, of Jersey City, defeated Sammy Robideau, of Philadelphia, in a hard-fought ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden last night. Robideau weighed 133; Shugrue, 132 1-2.

After the first round, which was even, Shugrue had the better of every session except the seventh, in which Robideau went down twice for nine seconds, the bell saving him. In the tenth Shugrue staggered Robideau with left and rights to the face. Although groggy he manged to last the round.

One Man Filibuster Holds Up All Work In Senate Chamber

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Members of the senate, fearing that the one-man filibuster inaugurated by Senator Jones, of Washington, may delay the work of that branch of congress, labored with *him today to abandon it. The Wash*ington senator is filibustering in protest against the refusal of the Democratic caucus to grant minority members an additional clerk. He announced his intention today to renew his campaign when the senate met Tuesday. Threats and cajolery appeared to have little influence on Senator Jones.

He objected yesterday, wherever the constitution, the rules and the presiding officer permitted, to the technical introduction of bills and resolutions and to the consideration of others.

He resorted five times to the call for a quorum, and senators, busy with committee work or otherwise engaged, were forced to enter the chamber and record their presence. The members of the tariff subcommittee striving with all its might to finish the schedules assigned to it recessed again and again.

Most of the senate is taking the filibuster philosophically although Majority "Whip" Senator J. Hamilton Lewis is unhappy and overworked in his role of the dove of peace.

OIL COMPANY'S CODE BOOK PROBED AT TRIAL

State of Texas' Suit for $99,000,000 Penalty in Full Swing

(By Associated Press.)

CORSICANA, Tex., June 6.—The Magnolia Petroleum company's code book was put under investigation when testimony was resumed in the state of Texas' hearing of testimony in its $99,000,000 oil penalty suit.

W. C. Proctor, secretary of both the Magnolia company and of the Corsicana Petroleum company, the two Texas concerns involved, resumed the witness stand. He testified that H. C. Colger, Jr., a stockholder of the Magnolia and president of the Standard Oil company of New York, has a Magnolia code book.

C. N. Payne, of Titusville, Pa., another Magnolia stockholder, who is an official of the National Transit company, also has one, Mr. Proctor said.

Want Sane Fourth

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 7.—Steps are already being taken by the city commissioners to have a safe and sane observance of the Fourth of July in Chattanooga. Last year not a single accident was reported. The chief feature of the local celebration will be an excursion to Athens, Tenn., where a good roads jubilee is to be held to boost the proposed Chattanooga to Knoxville concrete highway.

(By Associated Press.)

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 7.—Colonel William F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") is critically ill in this city at the home of his cousin, Charles O. Ward. Colonel Cody's show appeared here yesterday afternoon and last night. He was in the performance in the afternoon, but was stricken ill in the evening and was removed to Mr. Ward's home. Physicians attending him say his condition is grave.

GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE IS GROWING SERIOUS

Entomologist From U. S. Department of Agriculture Tells of Conditions in N. Mex.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The grasshopper problem in New Mexico is a serious one, according to Harrison E. Smith, entomological expert of the department of agriculture now stationed at Elida, N. M., to help in the fight against the pest. He telegraphed to the department today that he had been able to secure no aid from the farmers.

Mr. Smith also reported that attorneys have decided that poison can be used in the fight against the grasshoppers, although it was feared a few days ago that the state law would prohibit it.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT AT CHATTANOOGA SEPT. 15

General Orders Issued Saturday for Encampment of Boys Who Wore Blue in 'Sixties

(By Associated Press.)

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 7.—General orders for the forty-seventh national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Chattanooga, Tenn., September 15 to 20, were issued today by Commander-in-Chief Alfred B. Beers. The fact is emphasized that a national encampment has never been held so far south, and all veterans are urged to take this opportunity to visit the historic battlefields of Missionary Ridge, Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga and from Chattanooga to Atlanta.

Attention is called to the Gettysburg reunion, the first day of which, July 1, will be Veterans' day, under the direction of the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and the commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans.

ENGLAND ASKED TO RECALL CONSUL MORTIMER

Vice Consul at Los Angeles May Lose Place as Sequel to the Long Beach Tragedy

(By Associated Press.)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 7.—British residents of Southern California began a movement yesterday for the recall of C. Mortimer, British vice consul in Los Angeles, as a sequel to the Empire day disaster at Long Beach, which cost 38 lives through the collapse of a pier.

A petition requesting the removal of the vice consul was drafted at a meeting of the Empire day celebration committee, and will be forwarded to Sir Edward Grey, head of the foreign office in London.

It alleges general inefficiency, but specifically charges that the vice consul "took no part in the celebration and during the inquest of the victims he was not present, and took no part in the efforts to place the responsibility for the accident."

Mr. Mortimer declined to comment on the effort to remove him.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB IS FORMED AT QUITMAN

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

QUITMAN, Ga., June 7.—A business men's club was organized last night at a meeting held at the Seminole club. It was the biggest "get-together" meeting ever held here and by far the most enthusiastic.

J. H. Malloy was elected president of the new trade organization; S. J. Faircloth, first vice president; J. W. Avera, second vice president. An executive committee was named and this committee will choose a suitable name for the club and will select a secretary and treasurer.

HELP FOR WORKING GIRLS

Two Girls Tell Story of Their Illness and How They Found Relief.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better." —Miss AMELIA JAQUILLARD, 618 Seventh Street, New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa. — "My mother was alarmed because my periods were suppressed and I had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them." — Miss ESTELLA MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., Saint Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE ANSWER BOOK AND CATALOGUE.

Augusta, Ga., June 6, 1913.

Campaign Editor Journal, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: I see you are announcing a new Answer Book and the first 35 pictures free with it. Do you think that is fair to the other contestants who secured the Catalogue when it was first placed on sale. I understood that would be the only book containing ALL the titles used in this Campaign.

For the benefit of all of us will you please explain?

Yours respectfully,

MISS L. J. K.

We certainly will be glad to explain, although we were under the impression that we made it very plain that the Answer Book was a book arranged with 150 pages, 75 of them for the prize pictures and 75 for the ten answers that you are entitled to on each picture. Under the old plan it was necessary to have one picture and coupon for every answer you submitted. It would cost you $15.00 for the complete set of 750 pictures if you wished to submit the full ten answers on each picture that the rules entitle you to. As that was more than most Journal readers could afford to spend, even for the opportunity of winning $1,000 in gold. The Journal management issued the campaign editor to get up a book for convenience in submitting answers, and gave orders that with that book each reader would be given the privilege of ten answers on each picture, using only one of each picture instead of ten of each picture, as was under the old Booklovers' plan, and then to make it better for all readers who had not saved the the pictures and for new subscribers who are coming in each day, the order was given to give the first 35 pictures free with the Answer Book.

The price of the Answer Book withthe first 35 pictures is 50c at The Journal office or 60c by mail.

If you wish to enter the Campaign now and are not taking The Journal you can secure the first 35 pictures with the Answer Book and we will date your subscription to start with the 36th picture and will supply you with all the pictures up to date.

CHAMBER TO ENCOURAGE INTERURBAN RAILWAYS

Special Committee Appointed to Promote Building of More Electric Lines

For the purpose of encouraging the promotion and building of interurban electric railway lines out of Atlanta, the Chamber of Commerce has created a special committee on the subject, and the president of the chamber, Wilmer L. Moore, has appointed on the committee the following: Hollins N. Randolph, chairman; Mel R. Wilkinson, Frederic J. Paxon, Preston S. Arkwright, Fred Lewis.

Appreciating the value of this sort of railway development, the committee will undertake to give practical aid wherever possible. It will supply data and information, and will assist in promoting interurban lines when the circumstances permit.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the chamber of commerce of Anderson, S. C., has taken the initiative in a project to build an electric line from that city to Atlanta, as an extension of the Greenville, Spartanburg and Anderson electric railway now in operation.

This railway, one of the longest of its kind in the country, is backed by J. B. Duke, the famous North Carolina tobacco multi-millionaire. He is said to regard the road as a pet, somewhat as the over-sea line to Key West was the pet of the late Henry M. Flagler.

Some time ago the Anderson chamber of commerce took up with Mr. Duke the question of extending the line to Atlanta. He was favorably impressed, and suggested that the chamber ascertain the attitude of the people along the proposed route. To this end the chamber appointed a committee to make a special investigation. The committee is now prepared to report that the people are very favorable to such a project, and have given assurances of their willingness to co-operate and aid in its promotion.

BIG LAW CLASS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Atlanta Law School's Commencement Takes Place at Grand Saturday Night

Thirty-four young men, representing a dozen states of the union, will receive diplomas from the Atlanta Law school this Saturday night at the commencement exercises which will take place in the Grand opera house at 8:30 o'clock.

A large audience is expected to hear the program. The principal address of the evening will be made by W. A. Covington, of Moultrie. A general invitation has been extended to friends of the students, the faculty and the patrons of the institution.

After the diplomas have been presented the class honors will be announced. Blair Foster will deliver the valedictory address. A banquet will follow at the University club, at which Basil Stockbridge will act as toastmaster. Other speakers at the dinner will be Hamilton Douglas, George Westmoreland, George G. Osborne and Leonard Grossman.

The following young men will be given diplomas:

G. W. Anderson, P. L. Bartlett, B. E. Brewster, W. J. Bird, W. H. Brooks, W. F. Buchanan, Allen Mitchell Burdett, L. W. Camp, W. O. Cheney, E. R. Clarkson, A. A. Dowda, F. I. Dovell, J. M. Duddy, D. B. Foster, A. C. Franks, G. W. Franks, J. A. Gallogly, L. J. Grossman, C. F. Huppe, R. H. Lindsay, W. E. Morgan, G. G. Osborne, J. M. Owens, G. W. Parker, J. J. Slaton, B. Stockbridge, B. H. Sullivan, H. B. Terrell, S. B. Tighe, B. B. Trimble, W. Veasey, W. M. Warren, M. H. Wilensky.

SCHUMANN PROGRAM FOR ORGAN CONCERT SUNDAY

Anniversary of Composer's Birthday Will Be Devoted to His Works

Sunday being the anniversary of the birthday of the famous composer Schumann, the Atlanta Music Festival association will devote the entire program Sunday afternoon at the free organ concert to his compositions. The works of Schumann have made him one of the world's favorites with all classes of music lovers. His "Traumerei," which will make up part of the Sunday afternoon program, is perhaps the best known of his works.

The hour of the concert has been changed from 3:30 to 4 o'clock. The doors will be open an hour in advance, and all patrons are urged to come in ample time to be seated before the music begins.

Among the selections will be the famous Etudes Symphoniques, Paradise and the Peri, Traumerei and the Schummerlied.

YOUNG MEN TO DIRECT EVENING CHURCH SERVICE

Next Sunday evening the regular preaching service at the Central Congregational church will be dispensed with, and in its stead will be held the first anniversary exercises of the Pilgrim class. This is the young men's division of the Sunday school. It has made remarkable growth during the year, under the leadership of Mrs. George L. Hanscom.

The young men will have sole charge, and an interesting program has been arranged. G. M. Normandy will speak on "The History of Pilgrim Class;" G. S. Peck, on "The Work of Pilgrim Class," and P. T. Samuel on "The Future of Pilgrim Class." Musical numbers will be rendered by quartet, duet and the Pilgrim chorus.

Monday evening, in further celebration of the anniversary, the Pilgrims will have an informal reception and supper at the home of Mrs. Fuller, 521 Capitol avenue, to which they have invited the Averill class, the young ladies' section of the Sunday school.

JUDGE BECK WAS HOST OF TEN CLUB FRIDAY

Judge Marcus W. Beck was host at a delightful dinner at his home on Columbia avenue Friday evening, when he entertained the Ten club. The members and two specially invited guests met in the afternoon and listened to several interesting papers. They afterwards repaired to the dining room to partake of the hospitality of their host.

Besides Judge Beck, the following members were present: Samuel Jones, Judge Beverly Evans, Colonel Frederic J. Paxon, Dr. John E. White, Walter G. Cooper, Dr. Charles W. Daniel, Prof. M. L. Brittain and Hugh M. Willet. The invited guests were Judge Joseph Lumpkin and Judge J. R. Pottle.

CYCLISTS AND AUTOISTS MUST OBEY THE LAW

Residents of Ponce de Leon Send Petition to Chief of Police Beavers

Twenty-five residents of Ponce de Leon avenue, living between Bedford Place and North Boulevard, sent a petition to Chief of Police Beavers Saturday morning asking that city ordinances relating to automobiles be more rigidly enforced in that neighborhood.

Twenty-two of the men signed a petition asking that a traffic policeman be placed on duty to see that automobilists do not run their machines with the exhaust cut-off open. They declare that the noise was unbearable. Also, they asserted, drivers of cars flagrantly violated the speed limit.

J. T. Moore, of 599 North Boulevard, sent a separate letter in which he complained that boys and men congregate in front of a drug store near his home nightly with motorcycles and try out the engines, making so much noise in the process that nobody in the vicinity can sleep. Dr. George N. Miles joined in the same complaint in another communication. H. H. Half also in a separate letter said that the motorcycle riders annoyed him in a like manner.

Chief Beavers instructed the captains of the different watches to station men along the thoroughfare and see that the law is observed.

25 CENTS WELL SPENT BROUGHT A FORTUNE

Almost every family has some member who suffers with indigestion and it will interest them to know that a young English singer who had spent a fortune consulting the best doctors in Europe, bought a vegetable which was recommended by a celebrated French doctor as having wonderful digestive properties, for 25 cents, and made up a sauce with it and discovered that he had accidentally prepared a most delicious sauce which added zest and flavor to food, and at the same time acted as a wonderful digestive. Waw-Waw is the invention. Cooks at the best European hotels pronounce it unexcelled. The company soon bought the recipe from the singer for a large sum and called it Waw-Waw. It is absolutely unlike all other sauces, and although resembling in flavor a Worcestershire sauce yet the ingredients are quite different. Waw-Waw (an obsolete South American Indian word for Vegetable) is a purely vegetable sauce and contains no water, coloring matter, raw spices or preservative and is guaranteed absolutely pure. It is supplied to the principal homes throughout the world, and it has found immediate favor in America with the best hotels, railroads, homes, etc. A 25-cent bottle from your grocer will convince you how much more you will enjoy your food by adding Waw-Waw Sauce and how very easily you can digest anything and everything.

PRINCETON MAN FOR PHILIPPINE GOVERNOR

Professor Henry Jones Ford Will Probably Be Appointed Governor General

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Professor Henry Jones Ford, of Princeton university, is so much in the fore among those President Wilson is considering for governor general of the Philippines, that his appointment is considered here as practically settled.

GEORGIA RETAILERS TO URGE LAW IMPROVEMENT

Stricter Garnishment and Fraudulent Check Law to Be Asked by Association

Several measures designed to improve the state's laws relating to retail business will be indorsed and urged upon the legislature by the Retailers' Association of Georgia when that association meets here July 21-22.

One of these will be a bill to remove the exemption of day wage workers from garnishment. Another will be a stricter law penalizing the giving of worthless checks. The association will take a stand also, it is expected, in favor of the Ad Men's proposed measure to regulate advertising.

The association, organized some eight years ago, has now over 1,000 members, its enrollment being recruited principally among the general merchants in the small towns of the state. J. W. S. Hardy, of Waycross, is its president, and John Bratton, with offices in the Candler building, Atlanta, is its secretary.

LIGHT SHOWERS WILL CONTINUE OVER SUNDAY

Nice Weather Booked by Monday of Next Week, With Lower Temperature

The threatening weather of the past few days will continue through Sunday. Monday it will in all probability be clear and the weather will continue clear for several days from then on, according to Weather Forecaster von Herrmann. He even ventures as far as Wednesday for a nice weather forecast, and predicts a drop in temperature by Tuesday for good measure.

The lower temperature next week is booked on account of a coolness that pervaded the northwest Saturday morning. It was below 50 in the Dakota and Montana sections. This should affect the temperature here by Tuesday, the forecaster thinks.

Only .07 of an inch of rain fell within twenty-four hours ending at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. This amount of rain would not even warrant the carrying of an umbrella.

The thermometer is not booked to register higher than 80 for the next several days.

CAMEL'S HAIR CLOTH MAY BE DUTY FREE

President E. W. Ashcraft, of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' association, which meets the latter part of this month in Chicago, passed through Atlanta Saturday en route to his home from Washington, D. C. There is every indication that the duty on camel's hair cloth will be removed entirely in the passage of the pending Underwood tariff bill, said he.

The removal of this duty means much to the cotton seed oil business throughout the country, for under the present bill there is a duty of over 100 per cent upon it. The oil mill men use much of it during the crushing season each year.

Can 87 Pound Man Whip His Wife Who Weighs 122 Pounds?

Is it a physical possibility for an 87-pound husband to brutally mistreat a wife weighing 25 pounds more? And, if such a thing is possible, is it proper for the husband to administer semi-annual beatings just to prove his authority in the home and demonstrate the superiority of the male over the female.

These were a couple of questions City Recorder Nash R. Broyles had to decide Saturday morning when he refereed a verbal bout between Joe N. Lunsford, of 29 Bellwood avenue and Mrs. Lunsford in his arena at the police station.

Mrs. Lunsford declared that her husband had been cruel during the two years of her married life, having whipped her regularly every six months. She also asserted that he apparently changed his schedule of punishment several days ago, inasmuch as he had beaten her three times in the past week.

"How much do you weigh?" asked Recorder Broyles of Lunsford, after he had heard one-half of the testimony.

"Eighty-six pounds," declared the accused.

"You look heavier," remarked the Recorder. Then he ordered Bailiff George Cornet to take both the participants out in the hall and weigh them.

Cornet came back a few minutes later and announced that Lunsford weighed only 87 pounds and added that his wife tipped the scales at 122.

"She used a stick on me judge. That's why I beat her up," declared the little husband, who is apparently about 25 years of age.

Recorder Broyles finally gave up the job of deciding the case. He turned it over to Probation Officer Coogler and the husband and wife made mutual promises not to beat each other in the future.

FARMERS KNOCKED FROM WAGON BY TROLLEY CAR

A wagon belonging to John King, a farmer, was struck by a trolley car on the Marietta to Inman Yards line about three miles from Atlanta, Friday night, and Mr. King and his son Henry, who was with him in the wagon, were hurled to the ground.

No damage was done to the car, but the wagon was smashed. Henry King was taken to the Atlanta hospital, where it was stated Saturday morning that he had no broken bones. His father was not injured.

THEATERS

FORSYTH—Vaudeville.
BIJOU—Vaudeville and Pictures.

The popularity of tabloid musical comedy is being demonstrated this week at the Bijou, where crowded houses are witnessing one of the best shows of the season at bargain prices. "The College Girls" is a sparkling musical comedy, and the verdict so far is that the show is worth several times the price of admission. There will be matinees at 2:30 and 4 this afternoon, and the evening performances at 7:30 and 9.

Special interest attaches to the coming of "Hiram at the Cabaret" for next week. Reports from Jacksonville and other cities where this organization has played warrant the statement that the performance will be quite as enjoyable as any musical comedy that has appeared this season in Atlanta. The quaint character of "Hiram" is played by Wally Brooks, a comedian of ability, and he will be surrounded by a clever company, including a pretty chorus that is sure to make a big hit during the week. The week's engagement will begin with a matinee Monday afternoon.

POSTMASTER'S PLANS ARE APPROVED BY SUPERIOR

D. C. Roper, first assistant postmaster general, has notified Postmaster Hugh L. McKee, of Atlanta, that the latter's plan of extending the city deliveries and advancing the hour of mail delivery in the congested residence sections had been approved.

Mr. McKee tried this experiment some time ago, when he added nineteen carriers and paid them by the hour. Shortly the hour pay system will give way to the regular monthly salary.

Two deliveries a day are being made now in Capitol View, Kirkwood, Druid Hills and Oakhurst.

Why do Brewers of Germany and England use only Brown Bottles?

Sunlight grows the hops, but spoils the brew.

Light starts decay even in pure beer. Dark glass gives best protection against light.

In England and Germany the brewers won't use light glass bottles.

"Beer should not be exposed to the light, especially direct sunlight, as it will thereby be detrimentally affected, the light having an influence upon the albuminoids in the beer, causing the latter to become hazy," says no less a person than Philip Dreesbach, the eminent German expert and scientist in the Wahl-Henius Institute of Fermentology.

We have adopted every idea, every invention that could make for the purity of Schlitz beer.

Our beer was first brewed in a hut. Now our agencies dot the earth. Our output exceeds a million barrels a year.

COTTON MARKET STEADY; PRICES LITTLE CHANGED

Market in New York Closed 2 Points Up to 6 Points Off From Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 7.—Cotton opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 3 points near months being relatively easy in comparison with the Liverpool cables. Weather reports were considered very favorable but the market showed confidence overcome by the position of the new months and prices worked up a point or two after the call.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

(By Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, June 7.—Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 1 to 3 points. Cables were somewhat better than due but extremely favorable and weather reports weighed against prices. July was the only month to show strength in the early trading and it was only one point over yesterday's close. The weather map was generally unsettled scattered showers over the cotton belt, with promise of more over Sunday. Temperatures were reasonably moderate. Continued weakness in spot prices 3 points under yesterday's last quotations at the end of the first hour of business.

Toward the middle of the morning buying orders increased but they seemed to come from shorts who wanted to cover rather than from long operators taking on more cotton. The most active months went one point over previous close for the quarter hour. This slight rise brought out renewed liquidation by weakly hanging and the market fell off a few points again. The forecast of showers for the cotton belt over Sunday encouraged a small amount of fresh short selling and the market took these offerings readily too well. The close was steady, unchanged to a net loss of two points.

HESTER'S COTTON STATEMENT

NEW ORLEANS, June 7.—Secretary Hester's weekly New Orleans cotton exchange statement issued before the close of business today shows an increase in the movement for the 279 days compared with the seven days ending this date last year in interior figures 12,000, or 0.6% decrease over the same days year before last and 0.2% decrease under the same time in 1910 of 13,000.

For the six days ending this date last year a decrease under last year of 8,000, an increase over the same period year before last of 1,000 and a decrease under the same time in 1910, of 10,000.

For the 279 days of the season that have elapsed the aggregate is 10,000 under the 279 days of last year 2,167,000, ahead of the same days year before last 1,157,000, and ahead of 1910 by 3,265,000.

The amount brought into sight during the past week has been 151,000, against 164,000 for the seven days ending this date last year, 46,000 year before last, and 141,000 for the week in 1910, and for the six days of June it has been 30,000 against 36,000 last year, 7,000 year before last and 30,535 same time in 1910.

The movement since September 1 to-night receipts at all United States ports 9,597,942, against 11,719 last year, 8,408,988 year before last and 7,072,314 two years ago; takings by Overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 826,018, against 1,211,078 last year, 906,036 year before last and 776,564 same time in 1910; interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the corresponding week last year 318,237 last year, 93,344 year before last and 254,000 same time in 1910; northern mills taking 2,347,000, against 2,022,426 last year, 2,007,889 year before last and 2,004,699 same time in 1910.

These make the total movement for the 279 days of the season from August 1 to June 7 to date 10,773,995, against 13,440,880 last year, 11,526,-317 year before last and 10,078,013 two years ago.

Foreign exports for the week have been 72,184 against 35,336 last year, making total thus far for the season 8,135,410 against 10,120,175 last year, a decrease of 1,972,765.

Northern mills takings and Canada during the past seven days show a decrease of 25,422 as compared with the corresponding period last year, and total takings since September 1 have decreased 372,084. The total takings of American mills, north, south and Canada, thus far for the season have been 4,874,655, against 4,986,868 last year. These include 2,254,109 by northern spinners, against 2,026,182.

Stocks at the seaboard and the twenty-nine leading southern interior centers have increased during the week 65,720 bales, against a decrease during the corresponding period last season of 67,068 and are now 2,837 larger than at this date in 1912.

Including stocks left over at ports and interior towns from the last crop and the movement of bales brought into sight thus far from the new crop, the supply to date is 13,038,599, against 15,727,884 for the same period last year.

INTERESTING NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE MARKETS

Weather Reports, Crop Advices, Expert Opinions and Newspaper Comment

COTTON GOSSIP

Times-Democrat says: The bear has a ground, and thereby hangs a tale. The weather map is unfavorable, the forecast is even more so, the cables are disappointing, the spot situation excellent. The acreage is probably larger. Anticipating the exhibition of these facts the unconstitutional bear sold contracts short, and advised all his friends to do the same. These facts have been exploited in a world-wide way, and yesterday Secretary Hester's bearish week-end movement tabulations were given additional publicity, but all to no market. The market simply refused to exhibit weakness of any character. As a matter of fact, selling by longs on recent rains in Texas alone seemed to have checked an upward tendency. It is quite true that the off-take by American mills is disappointing from what people were expecting. America's absorption by mills to reach six million bales before the end of the present trade situation in Europe appears to be improving and spot sales of 15,000 bales on a given date are decidedly suggests a larger off-take abroad than has been anticipated.

Spinners' takings now aggregate 1,255,000 bales less than last year, when the season's total was 13,440,000 bales, or 1,185,000 bales more than in 1908-09, when the season's total was 12,245,000. Even these figures seem to indicate the talent figure that the season's total will be less than 14,250,000. The crest of the visible supply came on March 7. On that date the visible supply of American grown cotton was 2,745,000, against last year, when on yesterday visible supply of American was only 2,347,000. Even on the basis of present supply of all kinds of cotton is now 64,000 more than last year, whereas on March 7 it was 411,000 more than last year.

Map shows fair south central belt, partly cloudy to-day, with showers to-night; more in northwest Texas, Oklahoma, Tennessee. Scattered showers and cooler on March 8. On Indications are for more rain over Sunday coming on western and central belt.

Map—Forecast shows good indications for general rains central and south Texas and all of Oklahoma; scattered showers in Tennessee over entire belt, eastern states will get scattered showers.

Dallas Wires: Texas raining in Panhandle, other portion generally cloudy, few light showers, Oklahoma, light rains over entire state.

According to Journal of Commerce, A. J. Buston, one of the largest cotton exchange and bulk of the certified stock in New York, the theory of sales, reports that the trade is standing up fully in order to sell his holdings of spot cotton to the best advantage.

The New York cotton exchange will be closed Saturday July 5.

Forecast—

Louisiana: Unsettled scattered showers and thunderstorms tonight and Sunday; fresh southwinds on the coast mostly south.

Arkansas: Unsettled showers and thunderstorms tonight or Sunday, cooler tonight.

Kentucky: Unsettled showers this afternoon and tonight; Sunday cooler.

Georgia and Alabama: Fair tonight and Sunday.

North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida: Local thunder showers.

Tennessee: Local thunder showers tonight or Sunday, cooler.

Mississippi: Local showers tonight or Sunday, slightly cooler in north portion Sunday.

Cone and Gwathney were buying July and August sparingly most of the afternoon. The selling was scattered, some rains shown in Oklahoma which brought out some selling, but market at first steady on strength of weather positions regardless of weather conditions.

The summer position is entirely controlling the market at present. The talk of probable heavy movement in the fall is not creating uneasiness among the bears. Brokers representing large spinning interests were the leading buyers of July during the entire day. Selling has been scattered, the south and Wall street are the sole sellers of the week. There is talk of a squeeze in July, still it is hard to tell what may be the outcome. On the whole it is generally natural to believe that on further advance it will be profitably sold for

GOV. BROWN WILL URGE REFORM IN PRISON LAWS

Executive's Last Message Will Ask That Misdemeanor Sentences Be Alternative

An important reform in the Georgia laws applying to the penalties for misdemeanor offenses will be recommended by Governor Brown in his farewell message to the state legislature.

The governor will urge that the laws be changed so that sentences permitting the alternative of a fine shall be "open" sentences; in other words, that a convicted person who is unable to pay the fine when sentenced may have the opportunity at the time during the term of his sentence of paying that percentage of his fine represented by the unserved portion of his term.

Governor Brown directs attention to the fact that a system of this kind is in operation in the city of Atlanta. A person sentenced to pay a fine or to serve thirty days in the workhouse or a fine of $15 may not be able to pay the fine, but every day served off the payment of fifty cents is cut from the original fine, and at any time when the prisoner can obtain sufficient funds to pay a fine apportioning fifty cents a day for the unserved portion of his sentence he is given his liberty.

Under the present state laws if a person fails to pay his fine before the date set for him to begin serving his sentence he must do so and the pardons commission recommends and the governor grants a commutation.

"The present system amounts to a penalization on poverty," declared Governor Brown Saturday morning. "One man may be given a sentence of twelve months and a fine of $1,000. He pays the fine and satisfies the law. Another man may receive a sentence of 12 months or a $100 fine. He is unable to pay the fine and must go to the chaingang. Many of his family and friends may scrape together the amount of the fine but they cannot pay it and obtain the man's freedom until after the case is carried before the prison commission and then approved by the governor, and may cause delay for months.

"A misdemeanor prisoner should be allowed to pay his fine at any time he gets into position to do so and every day served should automatically reduce the amount of the fine.

Plans to Fly the Atlantic

(San Francisco Chronicle.)

Captain James V. Martin and his wife, an English aviatrix, who flies under the name of Lilly Orvine, will attempt to win the $50,000 prize offered by the London Daily Mail to the aviator who successfully crosses the Atlantic in seventy-two hours. He plans to take with him Commander Robert Dalton Jack London, the novelist, and a mechanician.

Martin arrived here recently from Honolulu, where he has been employed for several months as an officer in the Inter-Island Steam Navigation company. He was met by his wife, who has made a number of flights in the United States.

Captain Martin does not expect to make the flight until the latter part of June, but his machine is in France.

"The distance is 1,630 miles," said Captain Martin, "and I expect to make the trip in twenty-four hours. there will be no pontoons on the machine and I do not expect to have to descend in the water. I will start from St. John's, N. F., and the finish somewhere on the Irish coast. I will follow a course about the same as Atlantic Steamship lines, with which I am familiar. It is likely that Jack London will accompany me, as well as my wife and an assistant. The machine I will use will be a 'Tractor' biplane, embodying some of my own ideas. I am now contracting some flights in Alaska and expect to go north in a few days."

Poincare and the Waiter

(Kronstad Times.)

A pretty little incident occurred at the banquet given by the French bar to their illustrious colleague, President Poincare. When coffee was served M. Poincare called up the waiter who had watched over his comfort. "Thank you, Jacques," he said, "and shaking hands with him, slipped a banknote into his hand. "I won't have it," said the waiter, and, to the amusement and astonishment of those present, there was a friendly struggle between the waiter and the president of the republic. M. Poincare settled matters by pushing the note into the man's pocket, slapping him on the shoulder, and rising from the table. Then, seeing inquiry on the faces round him, he explained: "I was at school with Jacques at Sampigny."

Used Hornets to Catch Flies

(New York Tribune.)

Though dead these hundred years and more, old Hector St. John Crevecoeur is the man of the hour in his "Letters of an American Farmer" teach mankind how to cope with the fly. Employ hornets. "In my parlor," Crevecoeur writes, "I have a curious republic of industrious hornets. They are fierce and vindictive, but kindness and hospitality have made them harmless and useful. They live on flies. They are constantly busy catching them, even on the cradle of my children. By their assitsance I am little troubled with flies."

Lovely! Lots better than sticky fly papers. Though insufficient, the habit of sitting on hornets can be cured.

She Sets the Time for London

(Springfield Republican.)

There is a young woman in London who keeps steadily on her way despite booms and rivals. This is Miss Dolly Bond, who has taken up her father the curious business of supplying watchmakers with the exact time, which she gets with observatory. For fifty years the family has pursued this specialty, and every week Miss Bond receives the precise time from the observatory which gives the exact time to a tenth of a second, even after allowing for the transmitsion. Its greatest deviation was fifteen seconds in a week, but that was exceptional.

LEGAL NOTICES.

STATE OF GEORGIA, Fulton County:

Notice is hereby given that on June 30, 1913, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, the undersigned will apply to the judge of the superior court of Fulton county, Georgia, at the court house in said county, for an order authorizing him, as guardian for Marguerite R. Fugazzi, to sell for the purpose of reinvestment the following property of his said ward, to wit: An undivided one-third interest in the following real estate:

All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the city of Atlanta, fronting fifty-two (52) feet and five (5) inches, more or less, on South Forsyth street at the intersection with White hall street, and running back to an alley on parallel with said South Forsyth street one hundred (100) feet on the short line and one hundred and seventy-one (171) feet on the long line, and being or upper line, being part of city lot three (3) and land lot 85 in the 14th district of said Fulton county, Georgia, and being the same property conveyed to Henry L. Smith by John R. Wallace, March 9, 1875, by deed recorded in book X, page 412 of Fulton county records.

The reason for making said application and sale is that said above described property yields no income, the improvements thereon are old and depreciating in value, and its condition will necessitate the expenditure of considerable money to put same in condition to be occupied or for leasing. Said property is no longer desirable as residence property and is rapidly depreciating as such. Said property will become more expensive constantly to keep in order and in repair.

This notice is given under and in pursuance of Section 3095 of the Code of Georgia of 1910.

A. FUGAZZI,
Guardian for Marguerite R. Fugazzi.
E. V. CARTER, Attorney.

SHERIFF SALES FOR JULY, 1913.

Will be sold before the present court house door, "old court house building," in the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, on the first Tuesday in July, 1913, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest and best bidder, for cash, the following described property:

All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the city of Atlanta, Fulton county, Ga., and being part of land lot fourteen (14) in the fourteenth district, and bounded as follows: Commencing at a point on the east side of Auburn avenue on the east side of a seven (7) foot alley, which alley is between this property and the property formerly owned by Mrs. Mary Hall, said beginning being at a point about one hundred and thirty-five (135) feet north of Edgewood street, and running along the south side of said Auburn avenue twenty-five (25) feet; thence at a right angle directly back with said alley eighty (80) feet, more or less, to a seven (7) foot alley; thence along said alley twenty-five (25) feet to a seven (7) foot alley; thence northwardly along said alley eighty (80) feet, more or less, to the beginning point, and being the same property conveyed by Mrs. Ida A. E. Jackson and Jno. W. Jackson to Mrs. Mary Hall, by deed of record in the office of the clerk of the superior court of Fulton county, Georgia, and being the same property conveyed to Henry L. Smith by John R. Wallace, March 9, 1875, by deed recorded in book X, page 412 of Fulton county records.

The reason for making said application and sale is that said above described property yields no income, the improvements thereon are old and depreciating in value, and its condition will necessitate the expenditure of considerable money to put same in condition to be occupied or for leasing. Said property is no longer desirable as residence property and is rapidly depreciating as such. Said property will become more expensive constantly to keep in order and in repair.

This notice is given under and in pursuance of Section 3095 of the Code of Georgia of 1910.

Quiet old Baltimore is due for a shock when the Atlanta ad men arrive there.

Weston's 1,500-mile walk from New York to Minneapolis ought to be a good advertisement for the shoe trade.

On to Baltimore.

The delegation of Atlanta Ad Men who leave this afternoon on a special train to attend the national convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America, which is to be held next week at Baltimore, may be depended upon to keep their city well in the foreground of that interesting and important occasion. Of all the agencies at work for Atlanta's progress and prestige, none is more persistent in energy or more original in ideas than the Ad Men's Club. Its members are continually on the alert to initiate some new enterprise and to join in pressing forward to success every worthy civic endeavor. They will carry with them to Baltimore that Aladdin's lamp of the Atlanta spirit whose magic flame they have done so much to keep forever bright and potent. They will be seen and heard in every city along the way and in the Maryland metropolis where thousands of their comrades from every corner of the nation will be gathered they will bear constant witness to those virtues which have made Atlanta famous. They go with the good wishes and the confidence of this entire community accompanying them.

What Atlanta's ad Men are doing for this city, scores and hundreds of other Ad Men's clubs are doing for their own towns and so vigorous and well planned is their work that it has become a great factor in the progress of the nation as a whole.

"The Ad Men," the Baltimore Sun well says, "represent the business Progressives, the men who combine definite and modern business policies and standards with the zeal of the crusader, who can 'holler' with the loudest but who always think before they 'holler' and who have a method in their 'hollering.' In short, they are the artists and the statesmen of business progress, and they build as well as adorn."

From the convention which is to meet at Baltimore, the entire country will derive far-reaching and substantial good. The splendid ideals of true speech and honest methods and constructive purpose for which the Ad Men stand will be given fresh impetus and more liberal application. Every delegate from every town attending that convention will go back home brightened with new ideas and quickened with new enthusiasm to work for the best interests of his useful profession and of his community.

There is no dearth of material these days for the Congressional Record.

Mexico and the Balkans apparently had no time to consider Mr. Bryan's peace proposals.

Of course it was up to some G. O. P. congressman to intimate that the president was lobbying.

Smooth Sailing for the Tariff Bill.

The tariff bill has apparently weathered its serious storms and will henceforth find smooth sailing. Contrary to the omens of a few weeks ago, Democratic opinion has grown more and more cohesive in favor of the measure as it originally came from the House. Senators who at first were disposed to question the wisdom of certain rates have become convinced upon maturer reflection that the rates are just and should stand. Republicans who hoped to win over wavering Democrats have found that they were pulling against mighty influences in the opposite direction—the influence of watchful public sentiment and a vigorous President sure of his ground. The tariff lobby has been thrown into consternation, and sent limping from the capitol. The progress of "calm debate" can now proceed without interruption from special interests.

Particularly significant of what ultimate action on the bill will be is the recent course of the Senate sub-committee with reference to meats, flour and oatmeal. It seems that the original purpose of the committee was to remove these food products from the free list where they had been put by the House and to subject them to a small duty "to accord with that placed by the House bill on the corresponding raw materials, cattle, wheat and oats." The President evidently expressed his opinion, and rather strongly, as to the unwisdom of taxing these necessaries of life. The result was, as stated by the New York Evening Post, "that the sub-committee decided to equalize downward instead of upward—to cancel the tax on cattle, wheat and oats, instead of placing a tax on meat, flour and oatmeal."

Prof. Taft must find it interesting to be in Washington but not of it.

Here is Mr. Weston walking 1,500 miles, and some people kick on having to ride a hundred.

"Atlanta may become terminus for the south's largest electric line." Why not? We are the terminus for everything else.

Problems of the Anti-Jap Law..

The knotty and far-reaching questions which, it was predicted, would grow out of California's ill-considered Anti-Alien land act are materializing. A problem that was relatively simple in the outset, that was limited to one group of facts and that might have been diplomatically solved without provoking other and complex issues has become manifold and profoundly disquieting.

The Japanese government is now disposed to challenge not only the California law which denies its subjects the right of land ownership in that State, but also the interpretation of the federal immigration act under which Japanese have been excluded from American citizenship. The contention at Tokyo is that Japanese are not really Mongolians but are of Aryan extraction and, therefore, as members of a race which is ethnologically "white" are eligible to citizenship in the United States. Compared to the problems which such an issue, if hotly contested, might engender, the question of the Japanese ownership of a few thousand acres of land in California is of small consequence. By its hasty and ill-timed agitation of a small Jap problem, California has exposed itself and the remainder of the country to a problem that might become grave indeed.

Recent dispatches state, furthermore, that now Japan also invokes the fourteenth amendment of the federal constitution in its protest against the California law. Presumably, reference is made to that clause of the amendment which declares that no State shall "deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." The Tokyo government has previously protested against the California statute on the ground that it violates the American-Japanese treaty of 1911.

Thus if litigation is begun, the courts will be called upon to decide three serious questions—the violation of an international treaty, the violation of the federal constitution and the right of Japanese to American citizenship—all of which would never perhaps have been provoked had the Legislature and the Governor of California heeded the wise counsel of the national administration and left the original question of land ownership to diplomatic settlement.

That these issues will be determined peacefully and justly to all interests concerned, there is every reason to hope. But how much better would it have been, had the California politicians restrained themselves and permitted the national administration to take up this question in its early and simple form.

The honesty of one man is often good policy—for others.

The man who doesn't get all that's coming to him is generally lucky.

Des Moines' New Market.

As the crowning result of a long and insistent public demand, there was recently opened at Des Moines, Ia., a municipal market house which gives that city a new right to its reputation for progress. The building, designed with an eye to architectural beauty as well as service, consists of two stories and a basement. The first floor is allotted to stalls where truck products are sold; and the second floor, to butchers whose meats are protected by the most modern refrigerating appliances and are under the close inspection of health authorities. The basement is provided with rest rooms and otherwise equipped for the comfort and convenience of patrons. Adjoining the building along a spacious plaza are sheds where farmers may station their carts or wagons and deal directly with the consumer. The rental of the interior stalls is placed at a nominal figure so as to encourage the greatest possible number of tenants.

This building, with its divers devices for the guarantee of pure food as well as reasonable prices, is a development from the so-called "curb" market which was established in Des Moines several years ago. The people of that city realized the need of bringing the producer and the consumer of food, especially such products as vegetables, poultry, eggs and butter, into closer contact. They reasoned, and rightly so, that a public market would not only help the housekeeper but would also quicken the agricultural interests of the surrounding country and thereby upbuild and extend the city's trade.

In response to continued demands, the city Commissioners set aside a certain square as a place where farmers could offer their produce for sale and an ordinance creating the needful regulations was enacted. So popular and successful did this plan become that the Commissioners decided to carry out the central market idea on a larger and more modern scale. They appropriated fifty thousand dollars for the building described and now the people of Des Moines are enjoying a fresher and a more varied supply of truck products than ever before, and at lower prices.

This is an example of which Atlanta should take careful note. If Des Moines with a population of less than ninety thousand can build and maintain a municipal market, certainly this city with nearly two hundred thousand inhabitants can do so.

You may shut your eyes to your own faults, but the neighbors refuse to do likewise.

In accord with the eternal fitness of things, a man with narrow shoulders ought to wear a broad-cloth coat.

We once heard of a man who kept his mouth shut and lived to regret it—but we have never been able to secure the proof of the statement.

LOMAX, ILL.

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.
(Copyright, 1913, by Frank Crane.)

On the Mississippi river, about half way between Chicago and Kansas City, they are doing something that appeals to the imagination more than anything I have noticed for some years.

They are building a city. It is called Lomax. And the striking feature of it is that it is all preplanned, and that it is proposed that all the unearned profits arising from the settlers yet to come are to be turned into the municipality and not gobbled up by lucky speculators.

Whether the scheme is straight and sound I am not in a position to judge; but the idea is magnificent.

Henry George pointed out that the enormous increase in land values in a city comes merely from presence of the multitude. Nobody earns it. It is given to the fortunate lot-holder by the people.

Supose New York or Chicago or any other city had been shrewd enough to foresee the growth to come and had provided that ll holders of real estate should be satisfied with a reasonable 10 or 20 per cent profit, the remainder over that to go the city itself, what gigantic civic benefits would have accrued! Schools, hospitals, parks and all public improvements would not have been beggars. The people would not have needed the "benecvence" of the wealthy. The community would have been imperial in its self-respect.

More than that, the city might have been beautiful, a fit place for a human being to inhabit. There would have been no slums, no vile quarters, no filthy streets. The city would have been a consummate flower of civilization, and not as now an eyesore and a crime breeder.

We are paying the price of the lack of civic consciousness in our fathers. Six-tenths of the population of England, and nearly one-half (46.40 per cent) of the population of the United States, live in the larger towns. Everything has been sacrificed to a rampant individualism and the craze for personal gain.

The situation seemed almost helpless. Then came Ebenezer Howland in England, who proposed that instead of troubling with the almost impossible task of changing existing cities we should build new ones. He started the garden city movement, which has thrived mightily and produced such towns as Letchworth.

There are some forty garden cities in Germany.

More power, therefore, to the arms of them that are dreaming, planning and working at the new town of Lomax.

The American people are resourceful and energetic enough to do the impossible. If the present cities continue their irrational social and business conditions the people may build new ones, where opportunity, equity and pleasurable environment will draw all men to them.

The American city of tomorrow, says Frederick C. Howe, will be "like a World's Fair," but in stone and concrete rather than in plaster, planned from center to circumference far in advance of its needs and with provisions for every social want. This is the meaning of city planning. It is the newest of the sciences and possibly the greatest of them all.

"The Winning of the Wren's Nest"

The current issue of Book News Monthly has an article of special interest to Atlanta because its subject is an Atlanta memorial to an Atlanta genius and its writer is an Atlanta author. "The Winning of the Wren's Nest," apart from this, however, is a story of charm and not without power. The way a little band of women—the Uncle Remus Memorial association under the leadership of Mrs. A. McD. Wilson—resolutely put aside all ideas of any monument in stone or bronze to their great townsmen, Joel Chandler Harris, and quietly and perseveringly pursued their way until they had secured his home as his shrine, is itself a theme of strong human appeal as Myrta Lockett Avary handles it, making this point: "A home! where he had made wife, and mother and children happy for thirty years! Could any man wish a nobler monument?"

The preservation of the Joel Chandler Harris home in Atlanta marks the beginning in the south of the European habit of preserivng a great man's home as a sort of legacy of the gods to his people and state. The custom has a wholesome social moral of specially beneficent suggestion for our times when people move about so much and family relations are subject to so many transitions that the word "home" seems to be losing much of its sweet old-time meaning. It is notable that in Atlanta there is another author's home—Burns' cottage in replica—as his monument. And that a movement seems under way to preserve in Macon the home of Sidney Lanier. That will make three such shrines for Georgia, which goes to show that the state has a warm spot in her heart for the poets and the story-tellers.

The Ragtime Muse

"FARTHEST HILLS ARE GREENEST."

Here in the city the crowds are surging
Back and forth through the narrow street;
Need and greed and ambition urging
All to strive in the dust and heat.

Over far hills the blue sky's bending,
White clouds drift at the soft wind's whim,
And the long brown road goes on unending,
Over the far horizon's rim.

Here in the city the senseless clamor
And clangor of traffic—a maddening din!—
Is ceaseless save in the night's brave glamour,
But then come revels of flaunting sin.

Over the hills, in a peace bucolic,
The carefree farmer, making his round,
Considers his flock of lambs that frolic
And sees good money in every pound.

Here in the city, the wan consumer,
With anxious eye on his one wee goat,
Clutches an extra and reads a rumor
That the tariff bill will come to a vote.

Over the hills the son of the farmer
Mopes all day, with a bodeful frown,
And plans to elope soon and wed his charmer,
And come to live in the joyous town.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

V—WEIGHT VS. BULK.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The great difference in the measures of various commodities, when taken by bulk, have brought about a strong sentiment in favor of having all products usually sold by dry measure sold by weight instead. The difference between an even and a heaped measure, or between a measure filled loosely and the same measure packed tightly, materially affects its value, even granting that the measure itself be of the standard requirement. This matter is one of the most difficult to regulate of any problem connected with the subject of weights and measures, and it is generally conceded that no measure can be used to produce the degree of accuracy and uniformity given by standard scales or balances. The United States government has fixed the custom for weighing imported grains by the bushel in order to assess the duty upon them. Sixty pounds of wheat, fifty-six pounds of corn or rye, forty-eight pounds of barley, thirty-two pounds of oats, sixty pounds of peas, and forty-two pounds of buckwheat, avoirdupois weight, shall be estimated as a bushel, according to a law passed in 1866. All duties imposed upon importations of these products are based upon weights rather than bulk measure. It should not be assumed that these weights all represent a volume equivalent to the United States standard bushel of 2,150.42 cubic inches. On account of the variations in the densities of commodities in different localities it is impossible to fix with any degree of accuracy the weight of a given volume. These weights are obtained from the averages of the products in different localities for a number of years.

* * *

Since the weight of a given volume of such commodities as apples, potatoes, shelled corn and corn in the ear, coal and many others can only be fixed approximately it has become necessary to have an understanding in all business transactions as to which bushel is meant, the one represented by the volume of 2,150.42 cubic inches or the number of pounds called a bushel which may vary materially in the different states. Practically all wheat transactions are made upon the basis of weights, and each year the list of other commodities having a fixed weight per bushel is being increased.

This constant friction caused by the dual system of weight and measure was the subject of a considerable portion of the time of the conference of weights and measures which convened last month at the bureau of standards. A resolution was passed recommending that all laws specifying legal bushel weights or legal weights for other dry measures of all volumes be repealed and that such laws be enacted as will insure the sale of all commodities, usually so sold, upon a basis of weight or numerical count. A copy of this resolution, with an explanatory introduction, is to be sent to the president of the United States, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, members of congress and the governors of each state. While the conference has no official power, it is composed of the men most closely in touch with all phases of the conditions governing weights and measures. Most of these men will use their strongest personal influence in their respective states to secure the legislative action recommended by the resolution.

* * *

Th bill introduced by Representative Tuttle, of New Jersey, regarding the standard size of a barrel will fall short of the requirements of this resolution notwithstanding that it has been indorsed by the conference because it only gives the capacity required in cubic inches with no reference to weight. The New England dealers claim that Maryland and Virginia farmers ship short weight barrels into the Boston markets, although Massachusetts has a law requiring potato barrels to contain a certain number of pounds. The question of the weight of goods sold in their original packages will be covered in most cases, however, by the new national net weight law.

* * *

The possibility of being cheated in buying by weight is, in the opinion of many people, even including official dealing with the matter, quite as great if not greater than in buying by bulk. An officer from New England recently made an investigation of the scales of hucksters and junk dealers who were selling by weight and in every instance found them incorrect. The junk dealers who are buying rags, bones and scrap iron almost invariably have scales which are over weight so that a bag of rags which really weighs twenty-five pounds may be paid for as ten pounds because of the defective scales. In a number of communities hucksters will go through a farming region collecting butter, poultry and other produce which they weigh upon their own scales, thereby securing from 20 to 50 per cent more than they are paying for. Sometimes these hucksters are skillful enough at scale manipulation to change their weights so that they can sell the produce in town from the same scales, so weighed as to give their customers as great a percentage short weight as they took in over weight from the people from whom they purchased the products. Only the most rigid system of inspection and a fixed penalty for every kind of fraud perpetrated in weights and measures will give protection to the entire public.

* * *

The question of numerical count is one regarding which a stricter enforcement of the law is required. It has been found that in boxes supposed to contain 200 matches there is an average shortage of at least thirty. The sealer of weights and measures for the city of Indianapolis has been making an investigation of this matter during the last year. He estimates that the people of the United States are being defrauded of more than $2,000,000 each year in matches alone.

* * *

People who can least afford to pay for extortion buy coal by the bushel instead of by the ton. There is no way to regulate the amount in a bushel. In some cities an ordinance provides that a bushel of coal must be "heaped up." But, especially in the case of soft coal, it is easy to pack two or three large lumps in the bushel basket and heap up one lump so that the basket looks heaping full, but there are holes underneath that reduce the quantity of coal paid for by at least one-fourth. Chicago now has an ordinance requiring all coal to be sold by weight and a rigid system of inspection of the scales of coal dealers is a protection to the consumers from the loss by short weight.

In a number of states, and in most cities, there are legal enactments providing that all coal over 100 pounds must be sold by weight. Quantities less than 100 pounds are sold by the basket which vary in size. Last winter a city sealer in Providence stopped a driver who was delivering two baskets of coal to a poor woman. The coal was weighed by the officers, by standard weight, and it was found that this woman was paying at the rate of $19.25 a ton for coal which ordinarily was selling at $5. The law provided that over 100 pounds should be sold by the ton, and that law was enforced for the benefit of the people who were able to buy coal in large quantities, but no account was taken for those who were obliged to buy by the basket. Since then an ordinance has been enacted in that city providing that coal in lesser quantities must be sold in standard baskets containing eighty pounds of coal to the basket.

* * *

Ice is a commodity usually supposed to be sold by weight, but in many instances it is known that it is sold by the guess of the men on the ice wagon who give as little as they can for the money or ice tickets presented and perhaps make a profit to themselves recognized by the ice companies as "beer money." In some cities the ice companies will weigh out to the drivers a load of 5,000 or 6,000 pounds. The driver serves to the customers along the route and is paid by coupons. If he delivers only forty pounds for a fifty-pound coupon he saves ten pounds to sell on his own account. When such a shortage is given to the majority of customers the gain to the driver may amount to considerable addition to his wages.

GEORGIAN HOME TO WAIT DAY OF PEACE IN MEXICO

Warren A. Neal Says It Is Uncertain—Americans Quit, Intervention Needed

That Mexico will never be quieted until the United States intervenes, is the opinion of Warren A. Neal, an old Georgia Tech man who was in Atlanta Friday.

Mr. Neal, who spent twelve years in the turbulent republic engaged in his work as civil engineer and architect, and who passed through the ten-days fight in Mexico City, has come back now to his native state to stay until peace again reigns over Mexico.

Mr. Neal declares that the unpleasant position of American citizens in the republic has been accentuated recently by the failure of this country to recognize the Huerta government. American stores have been boycotted, he says, and citizens of this country, never popular in the sister republic, are more despised now than ever before. Practically all European nations have recognized the Huerta regime.

The reign of anarchy, Mr. Neal says, will continue unless the United States intervenes, and there is more talk now of intervention than ever before.

BUSINESS PARALYZED.

Business in the republic, he says, is paralyzed, and Americans who have been engaged in business ventures in all parts of Mexico are rapidly returning to this country. To get passage on a steamer Mr. Neal had to make his arrangements three weeks in advance.

Only two wireless orders were given by the government that no trains except those carrying soldiers or supplying the needs of the military should be operated on any of the government lines, and as a result Americans are finding it still more difficult to get out of the country.

To maintain peace in the country, Mr. Neal declares, would require ten federal soldiers to one rebel, so elusive are the latter.

FIVE-STATE FEDERATION

As an outcome in the near future of the present troubles of the country, Mr. Neal sees a federation of the five northern states, Chihuahua, Cehulla, Neuva Leon, Senora and Sinaloa.

Mr. Neal expresses the opinion that the rumors of trouble between President Huerta and Felix Diaz are unwarranted.

There is no possibility of an election now, he says, and the action of Diaz in declaring that he is not a candidate for the presidency and of instructing his leaders not to press the matter of an election, show, says Mr. Neal, that he is doing everything in his power not to embarrass the president further.

"The people of the United States" said Mr. Neal, "have in a measure gained a wrong impression of Huerta.

"While literally he was a traitor to Madero, he acted with patriotic motives, not personal ones, according to the opinion of most people in Mexico.

"The fighting in the streets of the city had been going on ten days.

INTERVENTION, OR TREASON

"Huerta had been doing his best to capture the entrenched rebels, who charged him up a narrow street in the face of machine guns, and as a result it was clear that Diaz could hold his position for an indefinite time.

"The senate brought pressure to bear on Huerta to surrender Madero and it was clear that after many conferences the ambassadors of the powers had decided to ask intervention. Then rather than allow his country be overrun with foreign soldiers, Huerta surrendered his chief."

Mr. Neal passed through Atlanta en-route to Cornelia, Georgia, where he will visit his father, Professor Charles M. Neal.

"It is useless from a business standpoint to stay in Mexico now, so I probably will go into business here. Mexico, in peace, is a splendid business field, however, and some day I hope to go back there," said Mr. Neal.

NO SUBSTITUTE COULD DO THIS.

No inferior substitute, but only the genuine Foley Kidney Pills could have cured J. F. Wallick, Bartlett, Nebr., of his kidney trouble. He says: "I was bothered with backache, and the pain would go up to the back of my head, and I had spells of dizziness. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they did the work and I am now entirely rid of kidney trouble. My father-in-law, now past 93 years, has taken them and they have added years to his life." POLICE CHIEFS HEAR OF ATLANTA'S VICE WAR

Chief Beavers Will Address National Association of Police Chiefs in Washington

Police officials in the various cities of the United States will be told next week how open vice was abolished in Atlanta. By special request, Chief James L. Beavers will address the National Association of Police Chiefs on the subject of "Segregation, or the Folly of Semi-Reformed Vice."

Chief Beavers will tell of his Atlanta crusade and what has been accomplished thereby. He will take the position that no city is too large or cosmopolitan to refuse to recognize any form of vice as a necessary evil.

The annual convention of the police chiefs occurs in Washington next week. Chief Beavers left Saturday at noon and will be away until Monday, June 16.

BARACAS AND PHILATHEAS PICNIC AT UNION CITY

The Baracas and Philatheas of McDonald Baptist church, Atlanta, will enjoy a picnic at Union City on Tuesday, June 10. A special picnic train will leave the Union station at 8 o'clock, and the program at Union City includes boating and fishing, there being a fine large lake available for those enjoyments; ball games, swinging, plenty of fresh spring water, and everything else for a pleasant day in the open air. The round trip will cost 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children. The train will return at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening.

CORPORATIONS WARNED TO PAY GOVERNMENT TAX

All corporations in the state which have not paid their taxes to the government by June 30 will be subject to a penalty of 5 per cent on that corporation's income.

Henry S. Jackson, internal revenue collector, is notifying corporations of this fact. He says that there yet remains $250,000 of unpaid corporation taxes.

These Men Will Write Water Out of Railroad Property and Tell Us Exactly What It Is Worth

The men who will determine the physical valuation of the railroads of the country—meaning that these chaps will find out exactly what every tie, rail, car, engine, station building, etc., costs, machine shop, too, etc. would bring if forced for sale to the highest bidder. They are from left to right, Howard M. Jones, J. S. Worley, Edwin P. Wendt, W. D. Pence and R. A. Thompson. Pence and Thompson come from the Wisconsin and California railroad valuation, respectively. It is estimated that ten years will be consumed by the experts in completing their great task.

ATLANTA AD MEN HAVE BIG PART AT BALTIMORE

Armed With Ideas, Atlantians Leave for National Convention Saturday

With their heads full of stunts calculated to startle staid Baltimore, members of the local Ad Men's club, accompanied by Montgomery and Birmingham contingents, leave Atlanta Saturday for Baltimore, to attend the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America.

According to L. D. Hicks, who is in Baltimore, the local organization is slated for a prominent part in the convention. Mr. Hicks had been notified that the Atlanta delegates will lead one of the divisions of the big parade, and the drum corps of the Fifth Maryland regiment will furnish the music for the Atlanta division. Atlanta men will carry electric torches, and the Atlanta division will be headed by banners with the slogan, "Atlanta Always Ahead."

HARPER WANTS ATLANTA TO GET BANKERS HERE

Houston Harper, of Chattanooga, the man who first organized a convention bureau in this city, is stopping at the Piedmont hotel for several days. He expressed himself as delighted with the progress the present convention bureau in Atlanta is making.

Mr. Harper is particularly interested in the movement started to bring the convention of the American Bankers' association here in 1914. He says that the Shriners and the American bankers are considered by convention bureaus to be the two best conventions that meet. "They are the best spenders and leave the most money in a city," he says.

"The Shriners have been secured already, and if Atlanta gets the bankers it will mean the spending of several hundred thousand dollars here. It will mean also the gaining of new citizens and probably the investment of thousands of dollars in property and business enterprises."

Mr. Harper says that not only would Atlanta feel the effects of this visit of such substantial business men, but that the whole section of the south would be benefited. As an illustration, he cited the recent Confederate reunion in Chattanooga, when that city entertained, he says, 100,000 guests. Many of the visitors took side trips, he says, and some visited Atlanta. He said also that many of the Presbyterians stopped over in Chattanooga on their way home.

HEADS OF BRADSTREET MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

Thirteen superintendents, representing the towns and cities of the southeastern division of the Bradstreet company, will meet in the office of the headquarters in the Empire building next Monday and Tuesday. J. E. C. Pedder, manager of the local office, will preside at the sessions, which will be held in the morning and afternoon of the two days. The sessions will be in the manner of experience meetings, and the best methods of conducting the business of the company will be adopted after a general discussion. The meeting is an annual event.

The southeastern division is made up of the following towns and cities: Chattanooga, Tenn., Augusta, Ga., Greenville, S. C., Macon, Ga., Savannah, Ga., Albany Ga., Jacksonville Fla., Tampa, Fla., Charleston, S. C., Montgomery, Ala., Mobile, Ala., Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta.

Governor Hodges Says Atlanta Should Have Some Women Officers

There is one governor anyway in the United States who is an ardent suffragist. He is George H. Hodges, governor of the state of Kansas, the state where women can vote.

Governor Hodges, with Lieutenant Governor Sheffield Ingalls and a number of other prominent Kansans, passed through Atlanta Friday night en route to Tate, Ga., where they will inspect certain marble mines with a view to using the state product in the erection of the old soldiers' memorial at Topeka, Kansas.

When interviewed in regard to the success of woman's suffrage in Kansas, Governor Hodges displayed enthusiasm. He credited the great improvement in sociological problems in Kansas directly to the fact that women have the ballot there.

Predicting that equal rights for women will be granted in Atlanta and Georgia within the next few years, the governor said: "If the chief of Atlanta's police force were a woman or some of the assistants were women, it would be easy for Atlanta to control the vice situation. By this I do not mean that the present chief is incapable. From all I hear, he is most capable. But there are some civic problems that require the leadership or at least the assistance of women."

WALTER PULITZER BUYS UNCLE REMUS'S MAGAZINE

Magazine Founded by Joel Chandler Harris Passes Into Hands of N. Y. Publisher

Walter Pulitzer, the son of Albert Pulitzer, who founded the New York Journal, the first 1-cent pictorial newspaper in America, announces the purchase of Uncle Remus' Magazine from the Sunny South Publishing company, of Atlanta. Mr. Walter Pulitzer intends to transplant the property to New York, where the magazine will be published under the name of Pulitzer's Magazine, by the Pulitzer Magazine company, Inc., of New York.

The Uncle Remus Magazine was founded by Joel Chandler Harris, famous for his delightful stories of the south and southern traditions.

Speaking of his plans for the magazine, Walter Pulitzer said:

"First and foremost authoritative articles on all public questions the people want to know about. My efforts to secure articles from members of the president's cabinet is a forecast of our editorial policy. We will entertain only the best kind of material by men whose official positions give authority to their views; senators, diplomats, judges, representatives, captains of industry and others. Already we have the promise of strong articles from government officials who never before consented to appear in print. These articles will be written in a lively, entertaining style as free from technicalities as possible and leavened with the saving grace of humor; above all, they will be first-hand records of personal experience and opinion.

"While we shall aim to furnish our readers with the best and most striking fiction, short and serial by well known authors, it will be our constant endeavor to discover and present the work of the newcomer—the unknown writer who has a message to deliver that cannot fail to reach the hearts of our American public."

STATE TAX SYSTEM TO BE REVISED, PROBABLY

Need for Revision Is Great, Say Officials – Legislators Study It

In the opinion of state officials, the legislature will be confronted this year with the necessity of revising the tax system of Georgia. It is their belief that the messages of both Governor Brown and Governor-elect Slaton will urge a change in the present system, toward simplification and revision to meet new demands.

Several of the legislators have made a special study of the subject and will present bills when the general assembly convenes. A measure providing for an equalization board will be presented by Representative Lipscomb, of Clarke. O. T. Gower, of Crisp, author of the present insurance law which passed at the last term of the legislature, has had some correspondence with Comptroller General William A. Wright on the subject, and it is reported that he has framed a bill that will mend the defects of the present system.

There is probably no man in the state who has given the matter more serious study than General Wright, or who is acquainted better with the actual need for revision. In his opinion, the legislature is obliged to make some changes this year that cannot be delayed any longer. He says that the needs of the state have been growing larger each year and that the institutions looking to the state for support have outgrown the limit of revenue under the present tax system. While tax values are increasing, he says, they cannot keep pace with the demands of the treasury. Appropriations are running ahead of the income.

FIVE YEARS IN SCHOOL; HASN'T MISSED A DAY

Five years in Atlanta's public schools without being absent or tardy a single day, is the proud record of little eleven-year-old Ruby Cobb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Cobb, of 53 Oak Hill avenue.

The little girl started in school in the first grade at the county school of Capitol View, went two years there, went two years at the Oakland City school, and last year was in the George W. Adair school. She has been promoted every term, and has been in attendance without missing a day.

Sheh will be in the sixth grade next fall, and hopes to complete the eight years of grammar school and go through the Girls' High school without once spoiling her record.

FRANKEL WINS DEBATING MEDAL AT GEORGIA TECH

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Georgia School of Technology was begun Friday night with a debate at the Tech Y. M. C. A. auditorium, held under the auspices of the Henry W. Grady Literary society.

The subject was in regard to the recall of judges. S. D. Frankel, of the senior class, and W. P. Raybon, of Jesup, Ga., upheld the affirmative, and S. A. Gayle, of the freshman class, and L. C. Gordon, of the sophomore class, championed the negative.

The affirmative won the decision of the judges, who were J. W. Austin, A. C. King, J. S. Fleet and the Rev. C. W. Daniel. Frankel won the George Muse medal for the best debater

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS URGED BY COL. DALEY

School Board President, at B. H. S. Graduation, Says $2,000,000 Is Needed

In delivering diplomas to the graduates of the Boys' High school, Colonel W. R. Daley, president of the city board of education, called on the citizens present to advocate and support a bond issue for new high school buildings.

He said: "Atlanta has a credit on which she can borrow $5,000,000, and yet there is not an adequate high school building in the city. It is time for the people of Atlanta to urge the members of council to wake up and do their duty. In delivering the diplomas last night to the graduates of the Girls' High school I made this same appeal, and I want to reiterate it tonight. In the past few years we have spent nearly $6,000,000 for new grammar school buildings, and in that time not a dollar for new high schools. The grammar schools are important. It is true, and we have realized their importance. But the high schools are important also, and it is time for us to realize their importance and build accordingly. The current revenue of the city of Atlanta is not sufficient for any special improvements, much less the building of new high schools. The city should issue $5,000,000 worth of bonds, and $2,000,000 of that issue should be used for the purpose I have mentioned.

AUDIENCE APPLAUDS.

Colonel Daley's statements were warmly applauded, showing that the audience, which was large and representative, agreed with his viewof the situation.

Edgar Watkins, the well-known Atlanta attorney, delivered the prizes and medals. Bishop Warren A. Candler delivered the invocation. Music by the school orchestra opened the program.

Addresses were delivered by graduates were as follows: Valedictory for the literary department, Bascom H. Torrance; valedictory for commercial department, Joseph H. Stanfiel; "The Gospel of Service," Sam Eplan; "Universal Peace," Roy W. Manning; "Woman Suffrage," Ernest Lowenthal.

SCOLARSHIPS AWARDED.

Scholarships were awarded as follows:

Canine Burglar is Shot for Scratching Fleas in the Parlor

Because a mangy little yellow dog chose to scratch his fleas at midnight on the couch in the front parlor of the home of M. E. Brown, 137 Crew street, the (the yellow dog) he paid for the privilege with his life, early Saturday morning.

It was at the mystic hour of 3 a. m. that a call was received at police station from Mr. Brown's home. There was a burglar in the house, Mr. Brown said. Two officers at once rode to the place on their motorcycles.

They found the family huddled in one room, while strange sounds of tumbling furniture reached their ears from other parts of the darkened building. With drawn revolvers the officers advanced into the shadows of the parlor.

A flash of their searchlights pierced the gloom and revealed a figure lying on the couch. Two doggy eyes eyed them wistfully, two shaggy ears were raised inquiringly, two paws hung for a moment in the air before they flopped to the floor.

Mr. Brown and his family returned to bed, and the policemen took the little dog away. Outside the house they shot him—for it is not good for little dogs to play burglary, even though their fleas bite hard and couches in front parlors are soft and handy.

ATLANTA CHAMBER FOR GEORGIA ORGANIZATION

Directors Advance Money for Preliminary Work and Pledge Active Support

An appropriation to cover the preliminary expenses of organizing a state-wide chamber of commerce was made Friday afternoon by the directors of the Atlanta chamber, who offered the movement their hearty support and co-operation also.

In the near future it is planned to call a meeting of the officers of the various trade bodies of the state and at the same time to have delegates here from cities and counties where there are no local boards. The plans of the movement will be outlined then by Charles J. Haden, chairman of the local committee in charge of the organization.

The report of Mr. Haden, made Friday, outlined the plan that the state-wide chamber proposes to follow. It calls for the co-operation of every trade body in the state of Georgia, but more important than that, includes those sections yet unorganized, and is designed especially to interest the farmer in the work. One of the primary objects is to bring about a closer relationship between city and country that will result beneficially to both.

When the board of directors heard the outline of the plan they unanimously agreed to advance the money necessary for the preliminary work of the state chamber. This will be returned by the larger organization just as soon as it becomes permanent.

ATLANTA WILL SEEK MANAGERS' CONVENTION

An Atlanta delegation from the local organization of Building Owners and Managers will attend the convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, which will be held in Cincinnati next week. While at the convention they will extend an invitation that the association select Atlanta as its next place of meeting. The convention is well attended, having often as many as 500 present. It is believed the invitation from Atlanta will be accepted.

The Atlanta party, who leave Monday night via the Louisville and Nashville, are W. A. Jones, Empire building; J. H. Draper, Grant building and Third National Bank building; F. S. Gibbs, Rhodes building; M. R. McClatchey, Brown-Randolph building; R. L. Lyons, Austell building; R. H. Martin, office building specialist, Atlanta National Bank building; C. F. Wilkinson, Candler building. Several of the Georgia Adair will also send a representative. Several others will very probably attend.

CURSING BY ELBERFIELD INSULT TO ATLANTIANS

Chattanooga Manager Cut Loose Line of Dirtiest Talk Possible, and Yet Umpires Did Nothing—Elston Also Pulled Dirty Stunt in Throwing Agler

At the use of profane language Manager Norman Elberfeld is a past master if the line he used in the presence of 1,000 Atlanta fans at Friday's game is a fair sample of just what he is able to turn loose. It was a disgrace to the game and an insult to the hundreds of ladies who were in the stands and could plainly hear just what the rowdy Chattanooga manager had to say.

While the language used by Elberfeld in the presence of the lady fans was bad enough, probably even worse was the refusal of the umpires to pay any heed to it. Unquestionably they heard the language used by Elberfeld, but they did not offer to send him from the park and thus aid in protecting the ladies who had to be subjected to such disrespect.

Elberfeld did not try to speak the oath he hurled at Bill Chapelle in any undertone, but yelled so that it could easily be heard in most sections of the stands. Immediately after the game numerous fans complained to the baseball officials of the language used by the Chattanooga manager, some going so far as to state that they contemplated taking up the matter with the league president. And all were just as severe in their criticism of the umpires for allowing such rowdy talk as they were against Elberfeld for the use of it.

The use of improper language by Elberfeld was not the only rowdy work turned loose by the Chattanooga delegation. Curt Elston throwing Joe Agler bawling to the ground as the Atlanta first baseman tried to field a ball thrown by the third sacker. Elston not only ran into Agler and toppled him over, but grabbed him by the shoulders and aided in the work of hurling him hard. Even when this happened he did not check himself in the least, but rushed to third base and had a near fight when the umpire called him back to first base.

Here again Umpire Rudderham showed his lack of control over the players by refusing to even banish Elston from the field. Elston threw his cap on the ground and told the umpire just what he thought of him and continued in the game. This usually brings a fine and banishment from the game. But then what is the use in criticising Rudderham for what he turns loose? He is not an umpire, never will be and should not be parading about as such.

While the argument over Elston's act was going on Gabby Street, of course, butted in and paid his respects to the umpire and as usual got away with it. Street has no right to butt in on the arguments between umpire and manager, but owing to the fact that he once caught Walter Johnson's slants and has a fancy movement at the catching end he believes he has a right most anywhere. But for the fact that he was lucky enough to have once received for Johnson, Street would never have been heard of in the baseball world and as it is he thinks he is one of the directors of the league.

ATLANTA TO RAISE FLAG

Directors to Accompany Club to Birmingham for the Big Day

Monday, June 9, will be Flag Raising day in Birmingham and there will be something doing, according to those who know. The Atlanta board of directors will be the guests of President R. H. Baugh, of the Birmingham team and Owner Rick Woodward. The Atlanta team leaves for the Smoky City late tonight and will have a day of rest before the team plays before the big crowds that are expected to turn out and see the flag raised.

Birmingham and Atlanta are trying to see which will have the biggest crowd out on their respective big days. Atlanta's big day will be on the 19th of this month, when President Kavanaugh, of the Southern league, will present the Atlanta public with the opening day trophy that was won by this city. Although the day was one of the worst this year, there was a record-breaking crowd out and Atlanta won the trophy. Now Birmingham comes to the front and says that Birmingham fans are more appreciative than the Atlanta ones and that a bigger crowd will be out to see their flag raised than there will be out to see the trophy presented. We take that kind of talk with a grain of salt. In fact, several grains of salt.

Atlanta will be there on the 19th of this month and will be there with a large majority. The Atlanta fans demonstrated that there are no feathers around any of the lower portion of their anatomy when they turned out over 8,000 strong on a cold, dreary day, just to help swell the attendance record and win the cup purely for civic and baseball pride. Atlanta fans have never been called on and found wanting. They are always there, rain or shine, and Birmingham could give away tickets and yet Atlanta's paid admissions would be greater than that of the Baron City.

MANY NATIONALITIES FOR BOXING PROGAAM FRIDAY

When the scrappers flock into their dressing rooms at the auditorium-armory next Friday night to get ready for the bouts, a goodly number of nationalities will be represented.

Only two scrappers in the lot represent the same race. Mike Saul and Mayer Pries. The rest are of scattered birth and miscellaneous nationality.

Jim Flynn is an Irishman. His name isn't Flynn at all—much less Jim Flynn. It is Andrew Chairiglione. But that was too much of an entitlement and then anyhow back in the days when Flynn tsarted a man had to have an Irish name to get by.

Jim Savage, who meets Flynn, is of American descent for many generations. Where his ancestors came from is uncertain but probably it was England.

Terry Nelson, who meets Mike Saul, in one of the ten-round semi-windups, is a Greek. Of course his name isn't Nelson and no living man seems to know what it is. But his presence in the ring means a solid restaurant and bootblack vote.

In the other semi-final Spider Britt, who meets Pries, is supposed to be of German origin. His name isn't Britt, of course.

So, there you have it. Out of six men one is by birth or descent a Greek, one English, one German, one Italian and two are Jews.

Seldom have six more popular performers been rounded up on one card. Tough old Jim Flynn is always a card. He is a willing scout, always scraps his hardest and has battled so long and so well that every follower in the ring game knows him and knows that he will always give everybody a run for their money.

Jim Savage has shown in Atlanta only once but that time he whipped Kubiak so decisively that he won the crowds and he has held them ever since. Atlanta boxing fans have followed his every move since that time and a good proportion of them believe that he is the greatest white heavyweight of them all.

Mike Saul is the most popular of Atlanta lightweights. He made his Queensberry debut in an Atlanta ring and he has done most of his battling here. He has been a willing a worker as ever stepped into the ring here and he will never failed to give the spectators a good scrap. He doesn't know anything but the real game of plow-in-and-mix-it; and that is admittedly what the fans want.

Terry Nelson is another of the same sort. He is a tremendous scrapper, always boring in and always giving the people the best he has. When he and Saul mix there is likely to be more action. The people like him.

In Britt and Pries the promoters have secured a card of never flagging interest. These lads always put on a great scrap. Pries will have $6 up for appearance money in a day or two and the rest will be a clinch.

GOOD PLAYERS ENTER GEORGIA STATE MEET

Indications This Year Are That Tennis Tourney at Piedmont Driving Club Will Prove a Hummer

The ninth annual tournament of the Georgia State Tennis association will be held at the Piedmont Driving club beginning on the 16th of this month and lasting until completed.

This will be one of the best tournaments to be held in the south this spring and a great number of noted players have expressed their intention of being in the meet. It will be for the championship of the state. The events will be men's singles and doubles and mixed doubles, consolation event in men's singles. The tournament is open to all players, representing all clubs which are members of the U. S. N. L. T. A.

A three-year trophy cup is offered in men's singles, it becoming the property of the player first winning it three times. First and runner up prizes will be awarded in each event. The entrance fees are $1.50 in men's singles and $1 in each other event. Play will commence each day at 10 o'clock. Entries close at 10 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, the 14th of June. All applications should be mailed to chairman of the tennis committee, Piedmont Driving club.

As a part of the entertainment to the visiting players meals will be served in the club dining room. On Saturday night the club will give an informal dance in honor of the visiting players. This meet is expected to draw some of the best players in the state and promises to be one of the best events ever held in the city. The Driving club is noted for its cordial hospitality and all players who come as the guests of the club will be assured of an enjoyable time.

Mr. Jesse Draper is in active charge of arrangements, and further information can be had from him in his offices in the Grant building.

ERRORS AND HITS THAT WON GAMES

Oldring's double in the tenth gave Philadelphia its twelfth straight victory. They took three from Detroit and safely defeated the Detroit Tigers in the tenth by the score of 8 to 7. Bender was on base when the fatal double happened. There was nothing to it but a defeat and the game was over. McInnis the big first baseman for the Macks got three hits out of four times at bat. Veach left-fielder for Detroit got three out of four times up.

The sensational fielding of the Boston team in the game with Chicago Friday gave them the second victory of the series. The Boston boys winning by the score of 5 to 4. The Chicago men hit Dickson freely, but the fielding behind him was sensational. Zimmerman was put out of the game for seriously spitting a decision by the umpire, but before he got out he poled the ball for two hits out of two times up. Boston got only six hits while the Chicago team had twelve to their credit.

A free pass, a man hit by a pitched ball and a single by Ainsmith gave Washington the victory over St. Louis Friday by the score of 1 to 0. This made it three out of four for the Senators. The game was one of the best that has been seen on the Washington diamond for some time. St. Louis got five hits while Washington took only four for their share. Both teams played errorless ball.

A two-bagger in the twelfth scoring Speaker gave Boston the victory over Chicago Friday by the score of 4 to 3. This was some game, it taking the Boston team twelve innings to trim the boys from Illinois. Boston got only five hits to Chicago's seven, but they came at the right time and the bean eaters won. Bodie for Chicago got three hits out of five trips to the plate. Lewis for Boston got two out of four times up, one of them being a triple and the other the two bagger that won the game.

The Highlanders lost their thirteenth straight game Friday when the Clevelanders made a clean sweep of the series by winning the last game by the score of 2 to 1. New York got six hits while Cleveland got eight. Jackson for Cleveland landed on the ball for two singles out of three times up.

Clever fielding on the part of Miller and Wilson Friday robbed the Pittsburgh team of a victory over Philadelphia. The game was a pitchers' battle, each team getting only five hits apiece. Pittsburgh's only run came in the seventh when Wagner tripled and scored on Miller's fly.

TODAY

NEW ORLEANS, June 7.—Evans and Adams of New Orleans and Harrell and Seabough for Memphis were the batteries announced by managers of the two teams for the first game of the series today. Newton, a left-hander, will be held in reserve by the visitors. The weather was clear and warm, and the grounds in fair condition despite yesterday's heavy rain.

MOBILE, Ala., June 7.—A steady downpour began shortly before 7 o'clock this morning, reducing the prospects of a game this afternoon to a minimum. The batteries for today, weather permitting, will be Hogg and Schmidt for Mobile. Manning will go into the box for Montgomery with Gribbens at the receiving end. Robertson for Mobile and Rasby for Montgomery will pitch Sunday.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 7.—Birmingham and Nashville meet today for the second game of the series if the weather permits. The morning is cloudy and showers are predicted. Either Pruett or Hargrove will pitch for Birmingham and Mayer catch. Breckenridge will probably pitch for Nashville and Gibson catch.

Boxing to Be Stopped

BRUSSELS, June 7.—A bill to prohibit boxing matches has been introduced in the chamber of deputies. It is indorsed by a large number of deputies and it is expected it will be passed by a big majority.

PITCHING

Hurling Corps of All Clubs Have Been Strengthened During the Past Month

—BY JULIAN MURPHEY.—

While the hurling corps of most every Southern league club looked to be decidedly to the punk during the early part of May they are now taking on new life and appear to be up to the usual standard. With the first two or three weeks of the schedule it began to appear as if the Mobile club was the only organization which possessed a good hurling staff but now it is all different.

MOBILE STAFF FAIR.

Right now the staff which is trying to win a pennant for Mike Finn appears to be only fair and is not near so much above those possessed by the other seven teams. Billy Campbell, Pug Cazet, Wilbur Robertson, Bradley Hogg and Heinie Berger are all fair, but as a whole they do not loom up so shiny. The first month they all went like a house afire, it mattering not which one did the slinging, but now they are all getting their bumps and the Gulls do not loom up as such pennant possibilies, one big lead gained early in the season proving a big help in holding to the top round.

While Mike Finn has been sitting steady in the bench believing his staff good enough, the other clubs have been strengthening daily with the result that a lot of new hurlers have been added. At Nashville Bill Schwartz has brough aroun' Beck and Williams and they top a mighty good outfit. At Chattanooga Kid Elberfield added Rhudy Sommers and with Rudy Sommers in better trim than ever before he has two left-handers who are winning a great majority of their games.

At New Orleans and Memphis but little strengthening has been tried while at Montgomery the only change was the dropping of Piggy Paige and the acquisition of Charley Case, the ex-Vol. Birmingham has held to the same flingers and Manager Molesworth has added a new fielder and a catcher, believing this rather than the scarcity of good hurlers, the main cause for the failure of the Barons to play winning ball.

THE ATLANTA PUZZLE.

The Atlanta hurling staff has been a big puzzle all along. The pitchers looked as if they had a bunch of goods but were unable to put them where they counted. The result nas been the release of Bausewein and Buck Weaver and the addition of Chappelle and Dent. The only other regulars to hold their jobs are Price, Musser and Brady.

Though two or three changes have already been made in the hurling corps the renovating is not yet complete. The addition of Conzelman, lately of the Pirates, is the latest move and another is likely to be made most any day. To make room for the new flinger no one has yet been turned adrift. Musser, Price and Dent appear sure of their jobs with the team despite the addition of any new hurler. It is probable that some one will be placed on the ineligible list to give the new hurlers a trial before any final decision is reached.

Germans Give Praise To American Methods

BERLIN, June 7.—American horse training methods are coming in for high praise in Germany again this season, owing to the excellent results accomplished by the stable of Baron Oppenheim, the Cologne millionaire, under the direction of J. Hyland, formerly Sheepshead Bay, N. Y.

Although the season has just begun, Hyland's mounts have already won more than $80,000 in prize money. His friends say he has the best chance of capturing Sunday's Vienna Derby and the German Derby at Hamburg later in the month, each of which is a $25,000 event.

Many Women Enter

NEW YORK, June 7.—With a field of sixty entrants signed and permission given for the post entries, play for the women's metropolitan golf championship at the Nassau Country club, Glen Cove, L. I., will begin today. Most of the prominent women golfers in the cas tare entered. The finals are set for Friday.

CONZELMAN IS SIGNED; CHAPPELLE WILL LEAVE

CHATTANOOGA FINALLY WON

Crackers Gave Great Demonstration of Batting in the Eighth

The Crackers fought an uphill battle to keep the Chattanooga bunch from taking a ball game, but at last such had to be the case. The local boys had won seven in a row and when one was finally lost it was after ten innings of hard fighting and by a score of 7 to 5.

Batting rallies have been written of, talked about and witnessed, but never has a more sensational fusillade of hits greeted any one pitcher than was presented Rudy Sommrs in the eighth inning. Singles, triples, home runs, bases on balls and sacrifice hits greeted the left-hander and when it was all over there were five runs over the pan and the score was tied in a knot. These five runs held the score a tie until the tenth, when Chattanooga managed to bat in a couple.

Bill Chappele started out to do the hurling for the Crackers, but was not much of a puzzle to the visiting bunch. He was relieved in the ninth by Elliott Dent. Chap was a bit wild and did not seem able to keep the visitors from slipping the ball where there was stationed a player.

In the eighth inning Curt Elston, the Lookout right fielder, had to pull a rather unsportsmanlike piece of work by throwing Joe Agler heavily to the ground. He was making an effort to trap Smith's low throw when Elston grabbed him by the shoulders and hurled him to the ground and then raced to third. And then he kicked loud and long when ordered back to first.

Joe Agler started the fireworks in the memorable eighth by leading off with a double. Harry Welchonce, with a long triple with the bags filled and Whitey with a home run to the scoreboard topped it off in proper style. In the meantime Dunn had walked, Rohe had flied to right and Long had walked.

Wallace Smith and Joe Agler pulled a neat play in the fourth when King was retired. The Lookout outfielder hit a hard rap to third and Smith threw slighty bad to first, but Agler reached out back of the base runner and snagged it with his gloved hand.

Pole Coveleskie had to be called to the rescue of Rudy Sommers and the Pole worked well. It looked a bit threatening in the ninth, but after that there was never any danger. And besides he stung out a single which scored a run.

Athletes to Compete

CHICAGO, June 7.—More than 450 athletes from all schools in twenty-five states from Pennsylvania to California were entered in the interscholastic meet today at Marshall field under the auspices of the University of Chicago. It was predicted that several records would fall.

WHITNEY PLAYS ALDREDGE FOR THE GOLFING HONORS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 7.—Nelson Whitney and Aldredge got away in their thirty-six-hole match for the golf championship of the south here Saturday morning. Whitney proved the favorite, though the Texan is no mean player by any means. Both have played great golf in the preliminary rounds.

Nelson Whitney, of New Orleans, twice holder of the southern championship, Friday defeated Reuben Bush, also of New Orleans, in the semi-finals of the championship flight of the Southern Golf association's twelfth annual tournament here. Saturday Whitney will contest with George N. Aldredge, state champion of Texas, for the championship.

Whitney and Bush have played against each other in four previous tournaments, Whitney always winning easily. Both men played superior golf in both morning and afternoon rounds, the match being for thirty-six holes. Whitney won 7-6. In the afternoon Bush made the bogey 39 for the first nine holes, while Whitney played par golf.

George N. Aldredge, state champion of Texas, had no difficulty in defeating Tutwiler, of Birmingham, in their match of thirty-six holes, and will go against Whitney for the final match for the championship title. A big gallery is promised when these masters of golf meet, as both have accumulated large followings. Whitney, however, is picked as the sure titleholder.

In the first flight for the consolation championship Munger, of Dallas, Tex., had no difficulty in defeating Selden, Macon, Ga., 8-7, and Ulmer, of Jacksonville, won a hard-fought battle with I. W. Wood, Augusta, 1 up, in thirty-eight holes.

Besides the Whitney-Aldredge championship match Munger and Ulmer will fight the finals for the consolation championship.

New Flinger Will Get Workout Saturday Afternoon, Chappelle Will Make a Good Man for Some Club—Catcher Chapman Won't Make Trip With Club

Pitcher Joe Conzelman, late of Pittsburg, Friday signed his contract with the Atlanta club, and to make room for him Bill Chappelle was placed upon the ineligible list until he can be disposed of.

Right now the Atlanta club is dickering with several clubs with a view of selling Chappelle. He is a good hurler for somebody, but just cannot win for Atlanta, hence the change. Chap has seen long service in the baseball gamt and, with a better break in luck, will doubtless do better work.

Conzelman is a young college hurler who has great promise, and the sooner he gets a trial the better satisfied will be the Atlanta fans. All want to know what he has, and this chance will probably present itself Saturday, he being slated to face Coveleskie.

With the release of Chappelle and the signing of Conzelman the Atlanta club is within both the player and salary limit.

Catcher Chapman, who was injured in the Wednesday game with Montgomery, is coming along nicely and will be able to do the backstopping when the Atlanta team returns to Ponce de Leon Monday week. He probably will not make the trip to Birmingham and Nashville with the club, it being impossible for him to work while on crutches.

Conzelman to Face the Pole

Pitcher Conzelman, lately of Brown university and Pittsburg, will probably make his bow before Atlanta fandom in Saturday's game with the Chattanooga Lookouts. He is booked to face Pole Coveleskie, who, when at best, is a hard one to beat.

The new flinger has been working out for seven days past and is now ready to go to the slab and show the long fans just how good he is. Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburg Pirates, is expecting great things of the young collegian, and has strings attached. He was sent here for Bill Smith, to Nashville, and it is expected that within another year he will be a star.

In case Conzelman is not equal to going a full game, Gilbert Price will be in the box there ready to jump in and take up the hurling duty. Price is always willing to jump in on a moments notice. He is now in good shape and can hurl a good game without any effort. Joe Dunn will back up for the home club, with Gabby Street working behind the bat.

COBB'S WORK

Slowly but surely they laid him to rest and that seems to be what the Philadelphia pitchers are doing for Cobb's fat batting average. He was at the plate five times yesterday and did not connect with the ball for a single hit. As a result his average took a twenty point drop. His figures for the year are: Games, 32; at bat, 109; hits, 46; runs, 17; average, .422.

Profane Language on Ball Field Should Be Stopped at Once

THE FATE OF A KNOCKER ---BY FARREN

I'VE GOT A DATE TO GIVE A GIRL SOME LESSONS IN GOLF AND SHE HASN'T SHOWED UP — THAT LOOKS LIKE KNOBS JUST COMIN' OVER THE HILL
AND HE'S GOT SOMEONE WITH HIM, WELL, I DON'T WANT HIM TO SEE ME OUT HERE, SO I'LL GET UNDER COVER
JUST PUT YOUR LEFT FOOT UP A LITTLE AND THE RIGHT— BACK—
BUT, THIS IS THE WAY MR DANK TOLD ME TO STAND! ISN'T IT RIGHT?
YOU JUST LISTEN TO ME AND FORGET WHAT THAT HAM TOLD YOU! WHY HE DON'T KNOW THE FIRST THING ABOUT Ggolf! WHAT GET'S ME IS, WHY YOU EVER LISTENED TO A FISH LIKE HIM —
OOF

THE SPORTLIGHT
BY GRANTLAND RICE

Hal Chase, traded some days ago from the Yanks to the White Sox, has been the victim of a complicated temperament—the most complicated we have ever seen upon the ball field. Chase, the most brilliant first-baseman the game has ever known, had it in him to be one of the all-round wonders of the game as well.

He should have been a consistent .350 batsman—a base runner upon a par with Cobb, Collins or Milan—a wonderful scoring machine as well as a defensive marvel. In addition to this not even Ty Cobb has a quicker brain. Mentally and physically, Chase works in a flash—and all he lacked was the consistency of temperament to have rivalled Cobb. If he had had Cobb's ambition to succeed and the Georgian's unending persistency the two today would have been on even terms.

CHASE PERSONALITIES.

Chase is a smart fellow—one who is well read and one who has intelligent opinions to offer upon various subjects outside of his profession. Beyond this he is a bale of magnetism—an attractive manner that with more consistency in other lines would have made him well liked in every quarter. Mentally and physically he is inclined to be restless, as one might easily understand after watching him around the hotel camp. To sit still longer than five minutes was beyond him. He would be from one chair to another or be found pacing up and down the corridor, always as one in deep contemplation.

LACK OF SELF-CONTROL.

It was mainly this lack of self-control which held Chase back. When he was in the proper mood there was no greater living player. We have seen him for extended stretches throw himself into the game and for three or four weeks outclass the field. Then the keen edge of play would wear away and in place of forcing himself to top speed as Cobb, Jackson and others do, Hal Chase was content to subside and drift along without wasting any surplus effort in the cause.

FROM THE FIRST.

This complexity of the Chase temperament is no new adjunct to his nature. When Clarke Griffith signed him back in 1904 it was weeks before he could get Hal under way from the coast. Finally his baggage was sent ahead to New Orleans. A few later the New Orleans railroad agent received a wire from Chase to have it returned. Griff heard about it, had the agent hold the baggage for an extra week and persuaded Chase to come on. Even then as a debutante he had no burning fire of ambition to be a big league star, taking his time about accepting an opening that almost any other youth would have jumped at from a running start—both feet foremost.

THE CHASE COMBINATION.

Chase is remarkably quick with his hands—with his eye—with his feet and with his brin. Keyed up he would be the greatest first baseman in the game—one of thegreatest hitters and one of the three best people on the to paths.

His period of usefulness in New York was about over, for he had long since gone stale on the Manhattan stronghold. He is no longer a kid, but if he makes up his mind to throw himself into the game as Cobb has always done, the Georgian would have a worthy rival in sight. Whether he will travel in this direction is for the future to show. The stuff is there—but Chase to date has never given it a chance to show for full value. He has never taken his profession seriously and he has lacked ambition to reach the crest and hold it against the field. It isn't so much that Cobb can bat and field and run. It is more that Cobb is tired with the eternal ambition to stay in front—to work at top speed over the full stretch.

It would be a wonderful thing for the White Sox and for the game if Chance would only drive himself to the limit. What is more it would be a wonderful thing for Chase. This is for Chase himself and if he will only sit down and think it over there will again only be one first baseman in the land.

He was never able to furnish New York his full worth. Chicago may be luckier as the change may drive him back from the rut and start him. There was no other alternative, but to let him go, as his days of usefulness upon Manhattan soil were about concluded.

Chance was also in the position of the gentleman starting from the South Pole. Any move he made of necessity had to be in a pure northerly direction. If Zeider and Borton be appointed ambassadors to Zanzibar and Bulgaria tomorrow the general situation would be no worse in Yankeedom than it was before they started for the Chance corral.

ATLANTA GOLFERS READY FOR THE TRIP TO ENGLAND

The Atlanta contingent of golfing stars who are to visit the several crack English golf courses leave Atlanta on Monday, sailing from New York on Wednesday. In the party making the trip will be George Adair, Stewart Maiden, Frank Adair, Charles Seiple, Jr., and Perry Adair.

All of those who will make the trip to England are golf players of no mean ability and they will try their luck at playing over some of the most famous courses in the world, visiting England, Scotland and Ireland before returning home. In these countries are some of the greatest golf links in the world and the Atlanta golfers will gain many new ideas for improvements at the different local links.

Trapping a golf course is at present the prevailing fad and there is no better pair in the game to gain a good idea of this trapping work than George Adair and Stewart Maiden. Mr. Adair has studied the game for years and his efforts have been largely instrumental in the building of the crack course at East Lake. Stewart Maiden, the local expert, too, is a student of the game and the pair can get many new ideas concerning improvements which are soon to be made at East Lake.

Double-Header at LaGrange

LAGRANGE, Ga., June 7.—A double-header was played in LaGrange Wednesday, starting at 2:30 o'clock, between LaGrange and Newnan. The first game was the most hotly contested yet seen on the local diamond. It was a pitchers' battle up to the sixth inning, when Sam Nelson, pitcher for LaGrange, weakened, allowing Newnan to make one run in the sixth and three in the seventh. Lovert, for Newnan, pitched the most perfect game the LaGrange fans have seen this season. The second game was called at 4 o'clock, and Beasley was sent in to pitch for the locals, and Cullen for Newnan. Both Beasley and Cullen were wild and were taken out, Schuessler being put in by LaGrange, and Lovert, who pitched the first safe, being put in in the third for Newnan. He did not pitch as good ball in the second as the first, and the local boys made runs off him at pleasure. The score by innings was as follows:

Newnan	000 001 300—4	6	1
LaGrange	000 000 000—0	1	0
Second game:
Newnan	220 000 000—5	5	2
LaGrange	204 012 —9	11	2

Taft Receives Distinction

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 7.—Former President Taft has received distinction by the Yale Baseball association's action in awarding to him a special baseball chair. It is in the grand stand, directly back of the home plate. It was found that none of the ordinary seats were of proportions ample for the distinguished new faculty member. The baseball authorities thereupon tore out part of the first row of the big stand and made one large seat, where two were before. A reinforced wire screen was put in front to turn aside foul tips. Prof. Taft expects to occupy his new chair when Yale plays Harvard in the commencement game.

Big Boat in Coming Race

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The largest boat entered in the race starting from this city today for St. David's Head, Bermuda, 734 nautical miles away, is the Barbara II, with a rating of 43.36. She is 51 feet long and has a beam measurement of 11 feet. Her engine is 40-horsepower.

The Dream, winner of last year's race and the class of the contesting boats, is 40 feet long 9 feet beam and has a 16-horsepower engine. Her rating is 36.36 and time allowance of 16 hours, 44 minutes and 42 seconds.

The other starter is the Tacoma, a new boat, owned by Willard Mulford, of this city, and racing under the colors of the Ocean City Yacht club. Her length is 45 feet and beam 11 feet, with 30-horsepower engine, giving her a rating of 37.98. Her time allowance of 13 hours, 6 minutes and 36 seconds.

Former Commodore J. G. N. Whitaker, of the Yachtsmen's club of this city, is in command of the Barbara II, which is owned by William Duncan, of the Staten Island Yacht club. Charles L. Lagen, owner of the Dream, the Yachtsmen's club entry, is in command of the vessel, while George E. Goldbeck is the navigator. Dr. C. S. Street is the master aboard the Tocsan and K. L. Young the navigator.

Each of the boats carries enough fuel to cover more than 1,300 miles and stores and water enough to last thirty days. The number in the crews varies from six to nine. Two other boats, the Talequah, owned by E. C. Hadley, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., and the Tec, which flies the colors of the Jamaica Bay Yacht club, and was to have been navigated by Thomas Fleming Day, of the Royal Bermuda Yacht club, were entered for the race, but because of unpreparedness could not compete.

Speed Demon Goes to Death

DETROIT, Mich., June 7.—Edward Holleybeck, of Flint, Mich., was killed at the motordome speedway here Thursday while practicing on a motorcycle. He was learning the track in preparation for racing when he lost control of his machine. Going at full speed, he shot up to the top of the track, struck the guard rail, and dropped several feet to the bottom with the motorcycle on top of him.

Germany Interested In Coming Events

KIEL, Germany, June 7.—Great interest is being taken in the elimination trials to be held on June 18 here for the selection of the German representatives who are to participate in the German-American sonderklassa regatta off Marblehead, Mass., in September next.

The corrected list of yachts entered for the preliminary trials, with the names of their owners, is as follows:

Palmstroem, owner Eberhard Marquardt, Stuttgart.

Zoehund, owners Otto Berghoff and William Spindler, Berlin.

Resi V., owner Julius Stahn, Berlin.

Wittelsbach IX., owned Christof Alt, Berlin.

Serum, owner Waldemar Tietgens, Hamburg.

Decide Golf Title

GLEN COVE, L. I., June 7.—Miss Georgianna Bishop, of Brooklawn, twice the title holder, and Miss Marion Holdins, of Westbrook, met on the links of the Nassau Country club here today for the final round of the women's metropolitan golf championship. A big gallery followed the players.

Tennis Match To America; Play Saturday

McLoughlin and Williams Show Up Most Creditably in First Matches With the Australian Team

NEW YORK, June 7.—Showers forecast for today threatened to interfere with the second day's play of the tennis matches between the Australians and Americans, preliminary to the challenge for the Davis cup. Only a downpour, however, would cause a postponement as the courts at the West Side Tennis club are protected by a tarpaulin covering.

McLoughlin's smashing service with the high bounding ball, which proved such a terror to Rice yesterday, is expected by the American enthusiasts to continue a great factor in the remaining games and many have already made up their minds that the American team is certain to win the series and enter the next round in the international elimination contest to determine who shall play the English for the Dwight F. Davis trophy.

Experts among the several thousand spectators at yesterday's matches agreed that disparity of service was the most conspicuous feature of the game. McLoughlin's serve had the true "American twist" carried to its most aggressive point, which it seemed would win from Rice had it been from any other point of play. At no time in the three sets did he gauge McLoughlin's delivery correctly. The Californian made a dozen or more clean aces on service and fully a score of other deliveries simply slid sidewise off Rice's racquet from sheer speed.

R. Norris Williams, the Harvard player, in winning from Doust, captain of the Antipodian invaders, in a four set match yesterday, served nearly as well as McLoughlin at times, though through seeming nervousness, he was guilty of several double faults. Williams timed his strokes exceedingly well. He volleyed low when Doust was out of position and sometimes even at the point of play. He was learning the track in preparation for racing when he lost control of his machine. Going at full speed, he shot up to the top of the track, struck the guard rail, and dropped several feet to the bottom with the motorcycle on top of him.

Although double play was generally thought to be the stronghold of the visitors, the admirers of the American team hoped to see these taken today, which would clinch the victory.

The American tennis team went after a trip to England yesterday in their matches with the Australian team. They were there all the time and all that is necessary for the American team to do now is to win one of the remaining three victories and it will go to England the latter part of this month to play the German team, which has already eliminated the French team. McLoughlin defeated H. M. Rice, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3, and R. Norris Williams scored the second victory, winning from Stanley N. Doust, captain of the invading team, 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5.

The play was fast and snappy, although the matches this year were not up to the standard of past years, there was enough excitement to keep the crowds going all the time. McLoughlin was easily the star of the day, he defeating the other player in every phase of the game. Rice was able to handle the serves of the American man or he was able to solve his plan of attack. To the surprise of the gallery, there was none of the slam-bang methods used by the American champion. He was careful and precise all the way.

ALMOST KILLED RIDING UP AGTINST THE WIRE

Harry Swartz Tells of His Most Exciting Experience in Riding in Motorcycle Event

BY HARRY SWARTZ.
(Known to the Racing World as Mile-High Harry.)

The closest I ever came to breaking my neck was at Dallas. I tried to butt over a fence—but it's there yet. After one attempt I can safely recommend all young riders not to try it. It can't be did.

To appreciate the accident, you should see the Dallas track. It is banked at 62 degrees. Instead of 58, as the local track is. Four degrees don't look like a lot to you, maybe. But it's a good deal when you try to ride it. It's a four-lap track like the one here—and mighty fast.

We had a meet on October 20 of last year. Everything went right enough until the last race. We had six riders in that, and a keg of money up. I had the fastest machine left and it looked like sugar for me sure.

In the race was Mike Caffarello, an Italian rider. It was his first out on a board track and he was green as paint.

We were trying to line up—and it's a tough job on a board track with six men in the race. Bruggeman had the pole and Caffarello was just above him. I saw a chance to pass and started after it, climbing the track to give them lots of elbow room.

Up I went and up came Mike. The higher I climbed the higher he went after me. I don't know where he was going—up to the moon, I guess. Pretty soon he had me on the top boards. A little after that I was riding the wire. The next I knew I smashed into the fence.

The blow knocked off the right handle bar, but I held it steady with the left and got back down on the top boards, riding with one hand and hoping mighty hard.

About the time I hit the top Mike went down.

Then my luck went bad and Mike's machine came bumping into mine and it knocked me back into the top fence again and spilled me all over the place. I broke a four by six plank clean off, or the machine did; broke my hand, broke my skull, and punctured me all over with splinters.

And at that I got up and walked off the track, though I wasn't feeling very fine.

The funny part of it was that old "Pop" Richards was riding along behind us when we began to do the highland fling and he managed to dodge in among falling bodies and busted motorcycles and got by safely. He went by on the upper part of the track, while Jimmy Trafsky slid under beneath. Just before we smeared down to the bottom.

I was in the hospital two weeks and the machine was a wreck. When the wrecking crew finished with it there wasn't anything left but the engine and one perfectly good pedal.

It's a great experience, though. You see such a lot of stars.

Claim Wrong Report Of Ball Ground Game

BALL GROUND, Ga., June 7.—We wish to correct a statement made in The Journal a few days ago regarding the game between Ball Ground and Canton on Saturday the 24th, which was published under the head of "A Triple Play," which stated the game was a tie by the score of 5 to 5. The report was gated Ball Ground.

This is a mistake, and an injustice to us, and we wish it to be corrected at once and an accurate account of it given.

Here are the details:

It was in the ninth inning and the bases were full. Lyons hit a high fly to left field which was caught. Carter, on second, ran to third on purpose to draw the throw to second which was done, and McGregor, on third, scored on the throw to second with the sixth run that won the game. No mention was made of a triple play nor of a tie on the grounds. This was all made up afterwards and sent to your paper and is absolutely a mistake.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Ball Ground. . .000 003 003—	6	13	2
Canton. . . . .000 000 023—	5	4	2

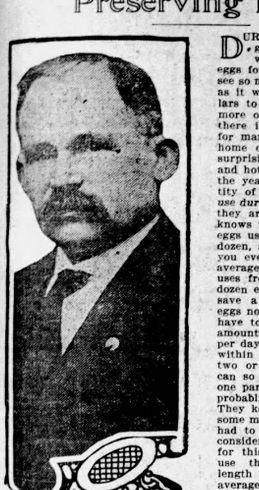
Preserving Eggs



DURING the past few months a great many people have written me about keeping eggs for winter use. I am glad to see so many interested in this work as it would save thousands of dollars to the consumers of eggs if more of this work was done than there is at present, not so much for market purposes but for own home consumption. It is further surprising to me why more bakers and hotels do not at this season of the year buy up a sufficient quantity of eggs for their own use to use during the winter months when they are always high. Every one knows that during fall and winter eggs usually sell at 40c to 60c per dozen, and it is a rare thing that you ever see this fall. When the average baker or the average hotel uses from thirty to one hundred dozen eggs per day they can easily save a difference in the cost of eggs now and the price they would have to pay in the winter, which amount to anywhere from $10 to $20 per day. This is a handsome profit within itself and a good salary for two or three men's work, and it can so easily be done. I know of one party who last year preserved probably five thousand dozen eggs. They kept splendidly and he made some money on them. Of course he had to sell these eggs and it was considerable trouble to find buyers for this large number who could use them within a reasonable length of time. But, where the average family, baker or hotel know exactly how many eggs they use they can govern their supply accordingly and save hundreds of dollars for themselves that they are now losing.

The egg supply has been bountiful this spring and have ranged from 16 cents to 20 cents per dozen in price. By taking a lot of these eggs and carefully candling or testing them there would probably be 10 per cent of these eggs that would not be fresh or good enough to keep. A great many of these could be used immediately, however, and would have to be discarded but it is policy to carefully candle every egg that you expect to put in storage and be sure that no addled or bad eggs are used. Another thing, one should be very careful not to use anything but clean eggs. If many are soiled they should be preserved in a different barrel or jar as they would stand a certain amount of chance in contaminating a large lot of fresh eggs if they were too far gone. Therefore, you cannot be too careful about this. A good, quick, smart man with little experience can easily test thirty dozen eggs every thirty minutes on the outside, and it would pay in the long run to have every egg that was preserved tested.

By using five parts (liquid measure) of water glass to ninety-five parts of distilled or boiled water, this can be put in clean fifty to one hundred gallon barrels and the eggs placed in this liquid. You will have to be careful to make either a wire frame or a top sufficient to cover the entire surface of the barrel so as to hold the eggs under the water. If any part of the egg should extend out of the water it would spoil. Eggs will keep indefinitely in this way. When they are removed by washing them in clean milk-warm water and then place them in fresh water for a few moments afterwards, say thirty minutes or one hour, and letting them remain awhile they can be much improved in looks and in keeping qualities by doing this. During winter months eggs that have been kept in this way will hold up and be good for several weeks after they have been removed, but it would be best to remove them say a day or two before you expect to use them for cooking purposes or for baking purposes. For scrambled eggs, egg omelet, cake baking and such things as they are used for there is but little difference in these eggs and fresh eggs, but of course when they are used for poached, fried or boiled eggs it will be necessary to use a strictly fresh egg they cannot be so well used, but hundreds and hundreds of dollars could be saved every year by many people who would put this method into practice more than they do. The ordinary family should preserve at least two or three hundred dozen eggs every year by this method. If as many as two hundred dozen were used and the saving of 20 cents per dozen was had it would amount to $40 per year, enough to buy quite a lot of groceries and would be a profit that is now thrown away by many people.

Another very good method but more expensive and requires more room is packing eggs in sale. This preserves thtm perfectly and is practiced by a great many people. One or two barrels of eggs could easily be packed in salt if the water glass was objected to, which should not be as it is perfectly harmless. In this way many families could sell their fresh eggs during the winter and use the preserved eggs at home.

CHLORO-NAPTHOLEUM DIP

AND LIVE STOCK Disinfectant has stood the test for half a century and is still the standard by which all others are judged. Good for your chickens, dogs, horses, cows and all live stock. Qts., 50c; half gallon, 90c; gallons, $1.50. West Disinfecting Co., 26 S. Forsyth st., Atlanta, Ga.

BEE DEE DIP—A concentrated germicide and disinfectant, non-poisonous, non-corrosive, standardized; goes further than all others. Dip all stock and poultry at the season, every two weeks, and you will be surprised at your increased profits. Bee Dee Dip kills ticks, lice, mites, fleas and prevents all diseases, like hog and chicken cholera, pneumonia, mange, hoop, etc. Price 50 cents and $1. The 50-cent bottle contains enough to make 150 pints or 30 gallons of strong dip. Leaves the feathers soft and glossy. Try it. Buy a bottle today. Bee Dee Stock Medicine Company, Chattanooga, Tenn.

DISINFECTANTS

AGASCO-SPRAY

WILL RID your premises of mites, lice, fleas and ticks. It is ready for immediate use with brush or spray pump. When applied to poles and nests it eradicates lice and mites so effectually that fowls do not have to be carried through that inconvenient and nerve-racking process of dipping. Manufactured by Atlanta Gas Light Co., Atlanta, Ga.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE

NORTH SIDE HOME BARGAINS

PEOPLE with five or six thousand dollars looking for north side homes have found out, if they have looked to any extent that it is almost impossible to get any place that resembles a good, substantial, close-in location for that amount of money. When the word PEACHTREE is mentioned you immediately think of a place from ten thousand dollars on up, and that is usually the case. ELEVENTH, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets are about the ideal north side residence section, for reasons that are familiar to all. On Twelfth street not over three hundred feet from Peachtree, between Eleventh, Fourteenth and West Peachtree, right in the apartment house section, we have on the corner of Crescent avenue a nice seven-room cottage on lot 50x150 feet. Price $5,000; one-fourth cash can buy any of the above places mentioned, balance one, two and THREE five places can hardly be beat either for homes or speculation and are well worth looking into.

REAL ESTATE GRANT BUILDING RENTING

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Building at Hunter and Haynes Streets Sells for $35,000, Marietta Street Railroad Frontage Brings $26,250—Forrest Avenue Apartments Sold—Permit Granted Railroads for $205,000 Produce Quarters—Peachtree Paving

There were some unusually good real estate transactions today. They included sales of $35,000, $26,250 and $18,000, as well as some smaller transactions.

Two building permits, aggregating a value of close to $250,000 were also issued. One was for the new quarters of the commission houses on Central avenue and the Washington street viaduct.

There are one or two large sales, two big leases, and some smaller sales now under negotiation and in the hands of lawyers for title examination which should be ready for announcement next week. It begin sto look as if the market was beginning an unusual summer revival.

HUNTER AND HAYNES SALE.

W. S. McBride, of the Clark & McBride Co., has made the third sale of the property at the southwest corner of Hunter and Haynes streets.

The property was owned by N. H. Bullock to Judges L. S. Roan and C. S. Reid, the latter of Palmetto, for an aggregate of $35,000. The property consists of a three-story, mill-constructed building on a lot 56x110. The property is now leased to Sullivan & Co., a wholesale Atlanta concern, for a long term at $200 a month.

The property was first sold by Mr. McBride last May a year ago for A. G. Rayles, Jr., to Mrs. Ora B. Mangum, for $27,000. He then sold it for Mrs. Mangum to Mr. Bullock for $28,500.

The building activity in the zone around the A., B. & A. freight depot, which is across the street from the above property, The A., B. & A. building has been leased to two large jobbing concerns for a long term.

MARIETTA STREET SALE.

Joseph P. Gatins, of New York, has sold to J. J. Shippey, who transferred the property to Shippey Brothers & White, a large tract of railroad frontage on Marietta street. Mr. Gatins bought some time ago from James W. English, Jr. The price was $26,250.

This property has a frontage of 258 feet northwest of Jefferson street. It fronts 150 feet on Marietta street, with a depth of 297 feet on the Western and Atlantic railroad, where there is over 400 feet of frontage.

APARTMENT HOUSE SOLD.

Mr. McBride, in conjunction with George P. Moore, also sold for W. D. Newsom to N. H. Bullock the northeast corner of Forrest avenue and Lowndes street, a two-story brick apartment house, for an aggregate of $18,000.

The building has six 50x150, and contains two-seven room and two six-room apartments, bringing a rental of $210 a month.

PRINCE ROW PERMIT.

Building Inspector Ed R. Haynes today granted a permit for $205,000 to the L. & N. and Atlantic Coast Line for the new quarters of the wholesale produce men on Produce row.

The building will be two stories and basement, covering a lot 905x420, which extends from a point on Central avenue north of Hunter street through to the viaduct. Architects H. J. Carr & Co. are the contractors and the railway engineers the architects.

Nearly all the houses on South Broad street have signed leases to occupy the building.

TRINITY AVENUE APPLICATION

Application was made by Nunnally and McRae for a permit for $43,000 for the erection of a three-story building at Nos. 75-6 Trinity avenue, to be built by occupied by Marcus Loeb & Co.

SMALL SALES

W. S. McBride, of the Clark & McBride Co., has made the following sales, some of them exchanges:

For Ben J. Mansell to J. N. Wallace, No. 349 North Jackson street, a ten-room house on a lot 50x185, for $8,000, the seller taking as part payment a lot 50x174, on Greenwood avenue, in the Druid Hills section, valued at $3,060.

This lot was resold for Mr. Mansell to N. H. Bullock for $3,000. Mr. Bullock is taking No. 546 Marietta street, 20x40 to the railroad, at $4,000.

Mr. McBride sold for W. J. Brown, Sr., to J. N. Wallace No. 385 Ponce de Leon avenue, a residence property, for $8,500.

Mr. Maddox of the Smith and Ewing agency, has sold for M. M. Anderson to Mrs. C. P. Cook, of Covington, No. 77 Lawton street, a seven-room cottage on a lot 46x150, for $4,000.

WOULD REPAVE PEACHTREE

The county commissioners, at their meeting next Wednesday, will consider repaving Peachtree street and Peachtree road from Fifteenth street to Buckhead.

The street has been repaved from Sixth to Fifteenth street, and now there is need to repave further so as to make a continuous, smooth pavement on this leading north side thoroughfare.

It is particularly urged that all property owners or others interested make it a point to be at the board meetings Tuesday morning.

MORE SALES

The Claud E. Sims company have sold for Mrs. Emily Jekyll to Dr. R. C. Loyd a lot in Tuxedo Park 450x590 feet for $5,000. This lot No. 12 of the Tuxedo Park subdivision.

The Suffragette

She is young, good looking and bonny,
And she dresses in pink and in white.
(Now, really I thought that a suffragette
Would just be a perfect fright.)

She talks of the cleaning of pavements,
The closing of each saloon,
And says, when the ballot, the women
Will accomplish, the both of them soon.

She understands all about tariff,
And explains why it oughtn't to be,
So that through its difficult darkness
A glimmer of light one can see.

I asked if she ever made speeches,
And she said she hadn't a doubt,
But she often went out with a lady,
"A most eloquent suffragette."

Who makes them to numberless hearers,
And always convinces the crowd;
But truly, there's nothing in this one
You'd ever call brazen or loud.

I'm conservative quite in my precepts,
But I'm bound to confess
My faith in my former convictions
Has just grown a trifle the less.

Since this maiden, good looking and bonny,
Has been "sent from our roof-tree a guest,
And acknowledge I'm secretly wondering
If the ballot might really be best.

Ancient Pharmacopoea

LONDON.—Quaint medical remedies which were popular in bygone days were described at the city of London school by Dr. F. M. Sandwith, Gresham professor of physic, in a lecture on "Drugs, Old and New."

After pointing out that herbs supplied the first drugs, the lecturer described how animal products were accepted as medicine, some even remaining in the first English pharmacopoea published in 1618.

"Bear's grease and new-born puppies were among the old remedies.

One book recommended a live spider to be rolled in butter and formed into a pill, and then swallowed, as an antidote for jaundice.

Vipers were held in high esteem, and a broth made from them was said to strengthen the sight. In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries powdered mummies were prescribed.

In some of the older herbal works a striking illustration was the constant recommendation of remedies for bruises, which gave some idea of the manners of the day.

John Gerrard, who was chief gardener of Lord Burleigh's garden in the Strand, and had a garden in his own in Holborn (ten called a "suburb" of London), published a book in 1597, which recommended "Solomon's seal" for taking away the one sight the "blackness of bruises caused by falls "or woman's wilfulness in tumbling upon their hasty husbands' firsts or such like."

Lord Morley in Berlin

BERLIN.—Why has Lord Morley come to Berlin? In official circles it is denied that any political mission of any kind is responsible for his presence in the German capital, but, on the other hand the newspapers decline to believe that he would select Berlin as the place to spend a prolonged holiday at this juncture unless some more than usual magnitude were engaging his attention.

The lord president of the council is undergoing the same experience at the hands of the newspapers of the fatherland as Lord Haldane underwent a year and a half ago.

The then secretary of state for war was in the capacity of Great Britain's peace messenger, but he described his visit as purely private, and Lord Morley is now reported as having used a similar expression when questioned by journalists, but the newspapers point out that the "private" visit is peculiarly timely, inasmuch as Prince Lichnowsky, the German ambassador, is also present in Berlin.

The Reichpost believes that the visit is connected with the "second phase of development in the near east, the advent of which was inevitable and which will entail the division of Asia Minor, followed by a change in the balance of power in the Mediterranean.

Soprano's Complaint

LONDON.—Miss Maggie Teyte, one of the most popular and probably the most youthful of English singers, returned to London last week from an extensive tour in America and on the continent.

She is to appear at the Albert hall with Herr Kreisler and Herr Backhaus, and will also give a concert at the Queen's hall.

"It is only a flying visit," said Miss Teyte. "I have to go back to Germany to fulfill engagements. I have just a little heartache about it.

"My visits to London, my own city, and to many other places in the world, are always flying ones. Without concert I have really had great success in grand opera all over America and Europe.

"I have sung all the leading soprano roles in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Paris, and even in Germany. But in London I only come now to sing in recitals.

"London, London is the only place in all the world, and yet I, though an Englishwoman, am scarcely ever here. And I do not sing in my native opera.

"You see I have a handicap. My handicap it is to be an Englishwoman in the musical world.

"Theoretically I've achieved my success I have always done so against all predictions. Oh, you are English, and therefore you cannot sing opera, is a phrase I have often heard.

"In America after I have sung big parts and had great receptions I have been called an American."

Gorky's Wife Returns to Stage

MOSCOW.—Maxim Gorky's wife, Madame Adreyeva, has returned here with the intention of resuming her theatrical career.

She says she could not longer resist the call of the stage. She has, she says, sacrificed herself enough for her domestic sentiments.

She is an artist herself, like her husband, and must accomplish more than she could as merely his cheering companion.

What Barristers Earn

LONDON.—Who will be the new judge?

There is much interesting speculation in legal circles as to who will be the occupant of the new seat on the judge's bench in the king's bench division of the high court of justice.

The recommendation of the commission, which has been inquiring into the question of public business on the law side—that an additional judge should be appointed—is quite expected to be carried into effect very shortly.

"TORTURE CHAMBER" METHODS CHARGED IN GETTING EVIDENCE

from the torture chamber if it is offered to him.

VIOLATED CRIMINAL LAWS

"That he and the detectives violated the criminal laws in arresting my cook when they had no charge against her and when they suspected her of no crime, I am told by lawyers, admits of no doubt. But this, Mr. Dorsey thinks, need not be discussed by him.

"While Mr. Dorsey thinks all this is entirely proper, it is the most thing in the impossibility to believe that many persons in the community will agree with him. Indeed, it would be surprised if a single individual could be found who would agree with him that he should use, even in the newspapers, torture chamber testimony to take away a man's life.

"When Mr. Dorsey introduces this third degree evidence to the jury can be supposed that he will at the same time tell the jury that it comes direct from the torture chamber?

"It is our time to suffer now. Can any one tell whose turn will come next?

"I do not wish to be in any manner bitter toward Mr. Dorsey, even in my feelings, because I am perfectly clear that his action is dictated by a serious mistake of judgment, and my only purpose is to let the community know fully, as thoroughly as I can, in the interest of fairness to my innocent husband, that Mr. Dorsey is proposing to use torture in getting testimony in an effort to take his life and that he thinks it is perfectly proper for him to do so.

"Mr. Dorsey and the detectives know that I cannot go on the witness stand and deny the affidavits they have published in which it is wrongly said from my cook in the torture chamber by the third degree process, because I am informed that under the law I will not be permitted to testify either for or against her husband. The law puts this absolute seal upon my lips and my only recourse is in presenting to the community know the facts through the newspapers as far as I can. I know I cannot keep up with all the false affidavits and false rumors and inuendoes that have been so industriously put in the newspapers, but I feel that I should call attention in this manner to Mr. Dorsey's position, which he so boldly justifies.

"Respectfully yours,

"MRS. LEO M. FRANK."

WON'T INDICT NEGRO.

Although the Fulton county grand jury meets again next Tuesday morning to take up criminal matters, there is said to be no probability of the jury considering a bill against James Conley, the negro sweeper, charging him with being an accessory after the fact of Mary Phagan's murder.

In fact, there is little chance of Conley's being indicted on this charge until after the trial of Leo M. Frank, prospective intendent of the factory where Conley was employed.

The natural inference from the fact that Conley will not be indicted by the grand jury until after Frank's trial is that should the state fail to secure a conviction, and any additional evidence is developed against Conley by the defense, then he can be indicted, not as an accessory, but as the principal in the murder.

Nothing has developed to change the attitude of the state, but there has been no evidence to demonstrate to a mathematical certainty the guilt of any person. As a result the attitude of the state is said to be quite flexible.

If the state fails to secure a conviction of Mr. Frank then the chances favor a charge of murder against the negro. It has been said that the defense of Frank will try to show the negro guilty of the crime, and additional evidence against the negro will be produced by Frank's attorneys.

NEGRO MAY FACE TRIAL.

If this should prove to be the case and Frank is acquitted, then the negro is certain to face a trial for his own life.

However, if the defense of Frank should fail to produce evidence to convict Frank still be acquitted, even then the probability is that the negro would be indicted as a principal and not as an accessory after the murder.

"In other words, developments of Saturday indicate that when Frank faces the jury in the criminal division of the superior court the negro Conley, his principal accuser, will be given a "preliminary hearing." If Frank is found guilty he escapes. If Frank is declared innocent then he (Conley) will have to stand trial for his life.

There has been much speculation about the legal right of the authorities to hold Conley, a witness in a state case, at police headquarters, where the city is bearing the expense of his incarceration.

Conley, soon after his sensational confession was transferred to the tower from police headquarters, where he had been detained several weeks. The transfer was on an order from Judge L. S. Roan, holding the man as a material witness in the case against Frank.

Conley remained only about twenty-four hours in the tower, when he went to the solicitor's office on another order issued by Judge Roan, and from he was carried by detectives to police headquarters, where he now is.

Solicitor Dorsey was asked to explain the negro's position Saturday, and he states that Judge Roan has issued an order permitting Conley to be detained at police headquarters.

The order is said to have been taken at the request of the negro himself, and by consent of his counsel, William M. Smith.

Conley was not "sweated" Saturday. The chief of detectives states that the negro will probably not be cross-examined again unless there are unforeseen developments.

TRIAL JUNE 30.

There is now little doubt that the case against Frank will be set on the superior court calendar for Monday, June 30, by the solicitor general.

It is also quite probable that the actual trial will be entered into on that day. The criminal division of the superior court is seldom in session during the months of July and August, and, should the defense attempt to postpone the hearing from June 30, the trial of the case would go over until September, and it is not considered likely that either side will want such a long delay.

It has been reported that Viola McKnight, the negro cook at the Frank home, has disappeared, but Chief Lanford says that no report about her has been made to him. The woman is a witness located by the solicitor general, and Chief Lanford says that he will make no effort to find her unless requested to do so by Mr. Dorsey. The rumor of the woman's disappearance has caused little comment, since she is not considered important as a witness.

It has been stated that the defense of Frank is expecting to show at his trial that the detention in the National Pencil factory, where the tragedy occurred, was not operated on April 26. Chief Lanford, on the other hand, is very confident that the state will be able to show conclusively that the elevator was in perfect running order on the day of the murder and could have easily been run.

It has not been learned in just what way the defense expects to show that the elevator did not run during that day.

The point, however, is considered a very important one, since it would upset the state's theory and the statement of James Conley that the body was carried to the basement in the elevator, if the defense can show that the car did not run on the day of the crime.

Conley's Record Bad, Says Former Officer

Investigations of the past record of James Conley, the negro who says he helped L. M. Frank dispose of Mary Phagan's body, are said to have been underway for some days.

The investigation is being made very quietly and it is not known whether it is being conducted by detectives or friends of Frank. B. M. Brodie, a former policeman, who is now in business at 153 Decatur street, states that according to information which he has received, Conley became enraged with his wife about three months ago and tried to cut her with a razor. The bullet missed the man's wife, but struck another negress, it is said, inflicting a slight flesh wound. Conley was not prosecuted. It is also said that some years ago Conley pulled a pistol on A. Ross, a grocer now deceased, and threatened to shoot him.

These and several additional charges against the record of the incarcerated negro are being investigated.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO GIVE CRY OF DISTRESS

Appeal to Wilson for Protection Against Mexicans Who Are Endangering Lives

(By Associated Press.)

TAMPICO, Mexico, June 7.—Three hundred Americans located in southern Tamaulipas, representing sixty-eight families, have demanded in a long message to President Wilson, sent through Consul Miller here, to know, "once for all," whether they can expect protection from their home government, since they "do not desire to take measures for our own safety which would embarrass our government without giving due notice before hand."

The message of the American, was transmitted by wireless through Consul Miller to W. W. Canada, the American consul at Vera Cruz, to be forwarded to Washington. It says in part:

"Having been left without any protection whatever on the part of both sides in the pending controversy, therefore we can look for protection only from our own country. We must know once for all if we can expect same. Having been subjected to slights and a great variety of indignities and gross abuse during the last few days, the situation calls for most serious preparations for our personal safety and the defense of our families and our interests. Therefore, we have assembled for the purpose of considering the best way. We consider protection necessary now, since that after death it will be of no utility."

The message declares in addition that the petitioners have borne financial losses silently, but that many of them cannot obey the advice to "get away if in danger," as their departure would mean the abandoning of the accumulations of a lifetime.

"We consider the lives of ourselves and our families in danger, and the situation has justified this petition several times in the last few days," the message continues. "It is no longer doubtful that the slightest spark will bring on the dread conflagration at any moment. In many instances the small arms sold American citizens on the part of the American government for their protection have been demanded, and in some instances they have been taken."

Colonel Pascual Orozco, Sr., Is Lynched by Zapatas

(By Associated Press.)

MEXICO CITY, June 7.—Disdaining a ransom of $20,000 offered by the friends of Colonel Pascual Orozco, Sr., father of the former rebel chief, Emiliano Zapata, caused the old man to be put to death, according to a special dispatch from Cuernanaca to El Imparcial.

The dispatch says Orozco's body was found by the federals near Jojutla, in central Morelos, hanging from a tree and riddled with bullets.

A commission of Orozco's friends recently went to Zapata and sought the freedom of Orozco. To these men Zapata said he would not sell justice—that if Orozco was found by a council of war to be innocent of spying, he would be freed, but that otherwise he would be condemned.

FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT IS SNAG IN JAPAN NOTE

U. S. State Department Is Making Careful Study of Protest on California Law

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Bryan returned from Pittsburg today and prepared to take up with Counselor Moore, Japan's latest note on the California alien land question.

In the verbal exchanges between the secretary and Ambassador Chinda and between the ambassador and President Wilson, the state department has been to some extent prepared for the newest points made by the Tokio foreign office. But because of their novelty, such as that relating to the fourteenth amendment and fine distinctions sought to be drawn between the relative functions of the national and state governments, the rejoinder must be most carefully analyzed before any serious effort can be made to draft a reply.

The administration, however, has no disposition to lay itself open to the charge of procrastination, so Secretary Bryan and President Wilson will almost immediately devote themselves to preparation of a legal argument to cover the Japanese rejoinder as far as that may be done.

Except for the possible adverse effect upon general relations between the United States and Japan, which might follow a refusal by the senate to sanction renewal of the special arbitration treaty, which expires in August, yesterday's proceedings in the executive session of the senate are not likely to directly affect the present negotiations.

"I ut," he added, "so far as Mr. Hurlburt is concerned I think an investigation is unnecessary for it is inconceivable that any person of Mr. Hurlburt's high and honorable professional standing should have had any connection whatever in any affair of this kind."

After the adjournment of court Wood who surrounded by a crowd of friends who expressed their delight at his acquittal. His co-defendant, Collins, was the first to offer congratulations. Arteaux, while showing plainly his disappointment at the jury's failure to acquit him, expressed satisfaction over the outcome of Wood's case.

SINCERITY OF VICE PROBE IS QUESTIONED

Motives of Illinois Investigation Openly Questioned by a Mail Order Man

CHICAGO, June 7.—Motives of the Illinois senatorial vice commission were questioned openly on the witness stand here today by Julius Rosenwald, president of a mail order house employing more than 7,000 persons.

"At the first session of this commission I came prepared to help in any way I could," said Mr. Rosenwald. "I produced our payroll which I have failed after several efforts to recover and I did my best, thinking that good might come of the investigation. Since then I have changed my opinion; the commission no longer has my confidance."

Lieutenant Governor Barratt O'Hara, chairman, and Senators Beall, Tossey and Woodward, of the commission, listened without chance of intentance to save that Senator Beall grew somewhat red.

The announcement of Mr. Rosenwald's opinion of the commission came suddenly when Senator Beall asked him his opinion as to whether female help was as efficient as male.

"I prefer not to give this commission any opinion," replied the mail order man.

Pressed further by members of the committee, Mr. Rosenwald said:

"I do not believe that the purpose of this investigation is sincere."

In the course of the questioning Senator Woodward asked if it was true that Mrs. Rosenwald had employed detectives to snadow members of the commission.

"I will say," responded the witness, "that anyone who says that says what is untrue."

Then you would say that Mr. Coan, our investigator, made a mistake when he reported such to be the fact?" pursued Senator Woodward.

"I would go further and state that the man who made that report knowingly uttered a falsehood."

Senator Beall attempted to get on a friendly man-to-man footing with the witness, but without getting an answer to the original question.

President Wilson Has First Secretary of Each Department Represent Absentees

WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Wilson apparently has established a rule that in the absence from the city of heads of the departments, assistant secretaries shall sit in their places at the cabinet table.

John Skelton Williams, assistant secretary of the treasury, attended the last cabinet meeting, and on all occasions upon which Secretary Bryan has been away, John Bassett Moore counselor of the state department, has joined the president's advisers. It is said the reason for the rule is that each cabinet officer may have a representative at the session, who will report to him any subjects concerning his department, which may have come up for discussion during his absence.

TARIFF BILL NOT YET READY FOR COMMITTEE

Two Sub-Committees of Senate Finance Committee Fail to Complete Work

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Two of the senate finance subcommittees working on the tariff bill failed to complete their work today, and Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, has been compelled to withhold a call for the full committee meeting.

Senator Johnson's subcommittee is still considering the paper and sundries schedules, and Senator Williams' subcommittee has not settled upon the administrative features or the income tax section of the bill. These committees may be able to complete their work Tuesday.

Senator Williams' committee is considering eliminating the anti-dumping clause of the Underwood bill on the ground that it might precipitate retaliatory tariffs by foreign nations.

WILSON CONSIDERS PLAN TO TAX TOBACCO MEN

WASHINGTON, June 7.—At the White House today it was said President Wilson was still considering Attorney General McReynolds' plan to tax manufacturers of tobacco on a sliding scale and had come to no decision.

The plan is to increase the rate of tax as the production goes over a certain mark, with the view of curbing monopoly.

White House officials said the proposal was still in the stage of a "suggestion," and took pains to explain that it was not an adopted policy of the administration.

It was added that neither the president nor Attorney General McReynolds had reached a final decision as to possible action relating to the efficacy of the dissolution decree o fthe Standard Oil company and the tobacco trust. The impression was general that the White House was disturbed by evidences that news o fthe attorney general's plan had been taken as bearing official indorsement.

Next Time You Make Waffles, Do This

—serve them with Velva Syrup with the RED LABEL, and know syrup as you've never known it before. Velva is made for table use, for making cakes, candies and other goodies. It puts new go in griddle cakes, makes muffins taste like more and places a plate of biscuits into a little world of its own. Good? Yes, ma'am, great—and its use brings the high cost of living down. Goes twice as far as butter on bread, and costs only a fourth as much. Never was, and never will be, any syrup as good as the syrup with the RED LABEL; and you'll keep on using it after you buy your first package. Try Velva next time you make candy. It makes great fudge, too, and you'll notice the difference in the first batch. Your grocer has Velva in the green can, too, if you like. Velva is ten cents up, according to size—and you never bought its equal. Send for the book of Velva Recipes. No charge.
